

Small Cut in Appropriations For U. S. Aid

$3,285,000,000 Measure Approved By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3,285,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill emerged today from the House Appropriations Committee with the smallest cut in the aid program's 18-year history.

The $75 million trimmed by the committee from the $3.36-billion program authorized by Congress only last week compared with the previous low of $198 million cut from the 1952 program. Last week's bill fixed the limit of new financing for the present fiscal year at a level of about $96 million below what President Johnson requested.

In addition to financing the foreign aid program, the money bill also would provide funds for several other activities, including the Peace Corps, boosting its over-all total of $4,001,453,000.

Over-All Total

This over-all total is up $919 million from figures for the fiscal year just ended, and the $3,285,000,000 amount for foreign aid is up $35 million.

Some Republican committee members were dissatisfied with the committee's action and called for a review of the entire program.

Largest allotment in the bill was $17 billion for direct military assistance to provide defense equipment and training for nations resisting Communist encroachment. This is the amount the President requested and is $115 million more than was appropriated last year. The money is earmarked for 54 nations.

One Dead, Eight Hospitalized With Bubonic Plague

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — Eight persons were hospitalized and numerous others were under observation today as a result of possible contact with a western New Mexico Navajo Indian boy who died Friday from bubonic plague.

The U.S. Communicable Disease center at San Francisco, Calif., confirmed the plague as causing the death of Larry Ray Jim, 14.

Four other cases, also among Navajo Indian children, were confirmed earlier. The children have recovered or are on the way to recovery.

Personnel of the U.S. Public Health Service hospital in Gallup, where the boy died, and neighbors also have been contacted by health officials about possible exposure to the plague.

Prairie dogs are believed the principal carriers of plague-bearing fleas.

Johnson Pushing

Progress Noted in Steel Pact Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slight progress was reported today in the fourth day since Johnson called the negotiations here emergency White House steel from Pittsburgh in an effort to negotiations, with President Johnson pushing the talks to ward a critical phase.

A source in the negotiations said the steel industry had raised its money offer "a little," but that the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union refused to budge from its last demand.

The last publicly reported industry offer was a 40 1/2 cent hourly increase in wages and fringe benefits over three years. The last union demand was reportedly 49 1/2 cents.

Johnson has said both sides must make concessions to reach a settlement.

No Denial

Union President I. W. Abel did not deny the reported industry offer to raise the ante in the multimillion dollar labor bargaining, but said: "If they have, they haven't told us about it."

The talks resume at 9:30 a.m.

22 Viet Cong Die In Ground Action

Government Losses Light in Fighting North of Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese troops launched an operation 320 miles northeast of Saigon today and claimed 22 Viet Cong killed, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The operation, 15 miles south of Quang Ngai, continued into the night. Government losses were described as light. Five Viet Cong were reported captured and 46 suspects detained.

No major activity was reported elsewhere on the ground. However, a spokesman said Air Force B52 bombers pounded a suspected Communist position only 20 miles from Saigon in the closest strike yet to the capital by Strategic Air Command planes.

Rattled Windows

The explosions from the B52 bombs rattled windows in Saigon.

Other U.S. and Vietnamese planes continued heavy air strikes against suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam.

Newsmen were told U.S. planes flew more sorties in South Viet Nam in August than in any single previous month of the war. The spokesman said pilots made 3,767 sorties — an average of 121 a day — compared with 3,531 in July, damaging or destroying nearly 8,000 structures.

There was no estimate on the number of Viet Cong killed in the strikes.

120 Sorties

In the 24-hour period ending Thursday, U.S. and Vietnamese pilots made 120 sorties and reported they destroyed or damaged 540 enemy structures.

'Bribery' Draws Congressional Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee today called on the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency to explain why a formal denial of a $3-million bribery incident that took place in Singapore in 1960 backfired to the embarrassment of the U.S. government.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East, said closed hearings will be held after the Labor Day recess to obtain an explanation from responsible officials on bribery allegations brought by Singapore Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew.

Lee threatened to name an American presidential intermediary of high rank who he said offered him the bribe in 1960 if he would not reveal the arrest of an American CIA agent trapped trying to buy information from Singapore secret agents.

Released Tuesday

State Department officials were taken aback Tuesday when Lee released a letter from Secretary of State Dean Rusk which apologized for improper activities by American agents and promised disciplinary action.

Zablocki said it was "most unfortunate" that the State Department had issued a formal denial of the bribery charge on Tuesday and then had itself reversed on Wednesday.

"It is not too difficult to look back to what action Prime Minister Lee was talking about," Zablocki said. He refused to elaborate.

State Department officials insisted that only Rusk and the Central Intelligence Agency knew of the letter to Lee. Zablocki indicated that Congress had been filled in on the incident when it occurred toward the close of the Eisenhower administration.

Joint Committee

Zablocki said the case indicates a need for a joint congressional committee composed of the chairmen of the Armed

11 Dead as Floods Swell Near Rome

ROME (AP) — Rain beat down on Italy again today as rescue teams used amphibious vehicles and helicopters to aid flood victims north of Rome. Eleven persons were dead, with dozens injured.

The storms spread over most of Italy, and Sardinia. The hardest hit area extended from Rome to Orvieto, about 80 miles north of the capital.

A sudden flood between the two cities on the high-speed superhighway swept 20 autos off the road.

Police said today they had found three bodies and considered a missing child dead. Fifteen persons were injured in the highway flooding.

Traffic accidents resulted in four other fatalities on the highway. A landslide also hit the highway but apparently did not strike any cars.

'Dummy' Corporations Okay

Gov. Knowles' 'Task Force' Urges Full Faith and Credit State Bonds

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A committee of finance experts today urged the state government to move for the authorization of full faith and credit state bonds through a constitutional amendment, but reported to Gov. Warren P. Knowles that a substitute borrowing method through so-called "dummy corporations" has been used efficiently and wisely.

The task force headed by Robert Dineen, president of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., is one of a series of studies that the state government operations to appraise the efficiency of the state services. It concluded that the state debt, now aggregating about $242 million will rise in annual stages to reach at least $500 million before the end of the decade.

A reduction in interest charges of one-tenth of 1 per cent through the authorization of full faith and credit state bonds could save at least $250,000 a year for state taxpayers, and up to $10 million ultimately, the governor was told.

News Conference

The analysis of state capital financing methods and recommendations for improvement were made public here at a news conference by Dineen, John F. Bauman of the Marine National Exchange Bank of Milwaukee, Herman H. Peterson of the Marshall and Ilsley Bank of Milwaukee, and John F. Konrad of Northwestern Mutual.

Selection of Site Top Priority, Valley Group Informed by Governor

Post-Crescent News Service

MADISON — Gov. Warren P. Knowles has instructed state officials to begin work as soon as possible on the drafting of rules for the selection of a site for a new Northeastern Wisconsin branch of the University of Wisconsin.

The governor made the announcement to a group of Fox River Valley legislators and civic leaders as he signed into law a bill authorizing the addition of third- and fourth-year university level instruction at a Fox Valley location to supplement the University of Wisconsin freshman-sophomore programs already provided there.

The bill also provides a $400,000 fund to finance the planning of the school, which university administrators hope can open its doors as early as 1969.

Knowles said George Kaiser, state commissioner of administration, will handle preliminary planning arrangements and will be available for consultation immediately with Fox Valley community spokesmen interested in advancing particular sites.

The governor also said he expects to name early next week a member of the state building commission, as required by the new law, who will serve with a representative of the university, and the state architect and state planning director as a site selection committee.

The committee will report its recommendation to the building commission, the governor and the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

The committee's first act, it is expected, will be to draft criteria describing in general terms the desirable characteristics and location of the site to be chosen.

There will be strong competition among Fox River Valley communities for the selection, as the northeastern spokesmen reminded Knowles when they chatted with him this morning. Rudy Small, Green Bay, a leader of a Northeastern Wisconsin committee which worked for many months for the passage of the enabling act, said leaders in his section are anxious for the earliest possible decision on site and the planning of actual construction.

Among the witnesses as the governor signed the new university bill, in addition to Small, were John Borgenson, Green Bay Area Chamber of Commerce; Assemblymen Cletus VanDerperren and Jerome Quinn, Brown County; State Sen. Robert Warren, Green Bay; Assemblyman Robert Haase, Marinette; George Greenwood, Kaukauna funeral home operator; Richard Van Sistine, manager of the Appleton district office of the Wisconsin Telephone Co.; Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell; Delmar Drumm, manager of the Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce; Sen. Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek; and Gus A. Zuehlke, president of Appleton State Bank.

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — National Guardsmen moved into this tension-racked town today as officials prepared to meet with Negroes making desegregation demands.

About 100 Guardsmen stopped at a motel on Highway 61, just outside town, for breakfast. They identified themselves to a newsman as members of the Headquarters 1st Battalion from Mobile.

State highway patrolmen, who had been in civilian clothes, donned uniforms today.

The meeting between city officials and Negro leaders had originally been scheduled for Wednesday night but was put off until today.

A source close to the city said after Mayor John Nossor and the Board of Aldermen met with police officials that it was deemed best not to hold the racial meeting at night.

Racial tensions have been high here since the booby-trap bombing of a car belonging to a leader in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, George Metcalfe, who suffered leg, arm and facial injuries in the blast, was reported in fair condition. The bombing occurred last Friday on a plant parking lot.

Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr. issued a statement from Jackson saying his office was following the Natchez situation.

Johnson, termed a liberal by some Mississippi Klansmen, said "any petitioning or meeting" would be "a waste of time."

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy's winds built up to dangerous 125-mile rate today but a very gradual northward swing in its forward movement lessened the threat to heavily populated south Florida.

Dr. Schweitzer Gravely Ill in Jungle Hospital

Sketchy Reports Heard in Capital Of African Nation

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer, 90, lies gravely ill in his jungle hospital, in which he has treated thousands of Africans.

The old doctor, whose name is legend throughout the world, was stricken by fatigue Sunday and has not left his bed since.

Reports reaching the capital today from the 100-mile distant jungle hospital were sketchy. Close associates refused to say anything or speculate on Dr. Schweitzer's chances of recovery.

"He is ill, very ill. We are all praying," a member of the staff told an acquaintance over the telephone linking the island of Lambarene with the capital.

No Telephone

The hospital itself, located across the muddy Ogooue River from Lambarene Island, has no telephone. Dr. Schweitzer refused to install one.

"Telephone!" he said a day before his 90th birthday last January. "That's all we need. It would poison our lives. We can take care of any situation here."

Reports of his illness trickled from the hospital to Lambarene by staff members traveling across the river in dugout canoes.

The sky over that part of Gabon was cloudy and occasional tropical rain pelted the brown river and lush greenery around it. The short rainy season began just before the doctor was stricken.

A topflight team of doctors was on the alert at the hospital, where, for the past six months, Swiss Dr. Walter Munz, 32, has been in charge. Dr. Munz arrived with an idea of gradually

Home Rule Drive Fails in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drive to bring the District of Columbia "home rule" bill to the House floor Sept. 13 has failed despite persistent appeals from President Johnson.

But the measure still can be wrenched from the district committee before Congress adjourns and Johnson still believes it will be passed this year, Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary said Wednesday.

The petition to discharge the committee has 185 signatures. To take effect at least 218 members, a majority of the House, must sign.

Brother Shot Down

Returns from Vain Search

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Dawson, who searched the jungles of South Viet Nam in vain for 10 months to find his brother, dead or alive, returned home today on a dry-eyed reunion, saying he just wants "to go back to work to support my family."

Dawson, 28, was met at the airport Wednesday night by his wife, Jeanne, 27. They had only a moment's privacy before facing newsmen. They obliged cameramen with a long kiss.

Dawson, skipper of an oil survey ship before he left for Asia late last year, said he spent $3,000 in the search, but failed to find his brother, Army Lt. Daniel Dawson, 27, a spotter plane pilot who disappeared over enemy territory last Nov. 6.

During his search, Dawson was held for four months in a Viet Cong prison camp, was stricken with malaria, then finally released after the Communists told him his brother was dead.

"I finally convinced them that my one wish was to have my brother's remains with me when I left. It was hell, but it was worthwhile. My brother would have done the same thing for me, and I would do it again," Dawson said.

His wife agreed: "I feel it was worthwhile, but added: "I'm glad that he is home."

"When I left home," Dawson told newsmen, "I insured myself for $10,000, figuring that would keep my wife going until she got another husband. I didn't figure I'd be gone this long. I thought I'd be gone a couple of months and that that wouldn't be much out of our lives."

Unfinished Story

On his failure to return with his brother's remains, Dawson said "I don't consider that this is a finished story. When the war is over, I've got to go back, and they (the guerrillas) will take me to my brother's grave. In the meantime, I've got to go back to work to support my family."

Asked if he believes his brother dead, Dawson replied: "The only thing I have is the assurance of high level officers of the 'Liberation Front' that Danny is dead. I believe that if he had been alive, they'd have photographed us together and made a big propaganda thing of it."

He was asked if his use of the term liberation front reflected any favoritism for the Viet Cong, and he said: "Out of their range, they're the Viet Cong to me. In their range, I call them the Liberation Front."

Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of the Boston Diocese, administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church to four young persons trapped in a car that went out of control in front of his residence in Boston and struck a utility pole on a safety island. One died. (AP Wirephoto)

Board Restricts Parking Near Hortonville High

Shift of Utility Poles, Wiring at New School Site Okayed to Clear Way for Construction

HORTONVILLE — The village board recently voted to go along with four requests of the school district involving storm sewers, parking bans on two streets and moving power poles in the immediate school area.

Parking on N. Oak Street from Union Street to N. Nash Street and in front of the school building on S. Union Street has been prohibited.

To make way for new school construction, utility poles were moved and the wiring put underground on the new school site. Gravel and street lights were put in to replace the old poles.

A $5,190 expenditure to replace a cement storm sewer with glazed tile was approved. The action was taken to comply with a recent state statute change which stipulates that no cement storm sewers can be located under a public building.

Policeman Promoted

In other action the board promoted relief policeman Arthur Boettcher to No. 1 relief man and Reginald Brockman was moved down to No. 2 man because he does not live in the village.

Seven building permits were approved by the board. They are:

- Tom O'Donnell, for a gas furnace and small shed at a downtown business. A second permit was issued to O'Donnell for improvements to his 231 S. Nash St., residence.
- Leo Galloway, 339 S. Mill St., kitchen remodeling.
- Len Timm, 754 W. Main St., cement driveway and patio.
- Adrian Pettit, 310 E. Main St., home remodeling and a new garage.
- Harold Miller, 218 N. Nash St., general remodeling.
- Elmer Graef and Ray Richards, paving of driveways at 206 and 218 S. Mill St.

The permits were presented by Emory Dorn, building and grounds committee chairman.

To resolve problems at the public library, Lawrence Moberg, library board president, asked that the library board, asked of $756 for Ozaukee County to a village board library committee schedule a September meeting.

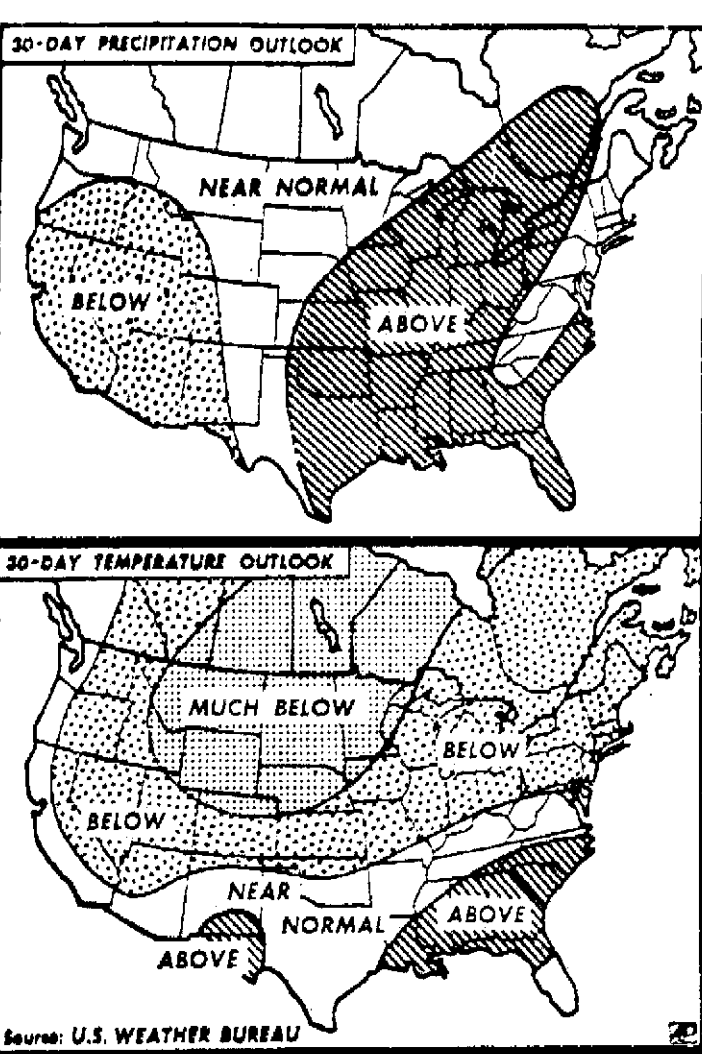

Game Unit Ready to Work with Counties For Improving Habitat

MADISON (AP) — Conservation Department Director L. P. Voigt said today his agency is ready to work with Wisconsin counties under the new program for improving fish and game habitat.

The project, approved by the 1965 Legislature, appropriates $380,000 for 1965-67 to be used on a matching basis with county funds. The state money is an alternative to paying bounties on fox.

"This may be the most significant step forward in wildlife administration since creation of public hunting and fishing grounds," said Voigt.

Money available to each county is determined by area, and amounts range from a low of $756 for Ozaukee County to a high of $5,238 for Marathon County.

Farm Bill Keeps Dairy Programs Unchanged

WASHINGTON (AP) — President federal milk and dairy programs would continue unchanged under an omnibus farm bill being drafted by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The committee agreed Wednesday to drop from the house - passed bill a new dairy program proposed for the 75 federal milk marketing areas throughout the nation.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., reporting the milk decision, said "the House dairy proposals were unworkable."

The House measure would have encouraged a reduction in surplus milk by offering higher price supports to dairymen maintaining current levels of production than to those who exceed their past levels.

Johnson Has Huge Problems

In Americans are foot-dragging on reforms.

An election in Chile and a military coup in Brazil last year were in the right direction from Washington's standpoint. Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba, under continued U.S. quarantine, is reported losing some of its charm for hemisphere left-wingers.

Johnson has devoted sizable attention to foreign affairs right along, Viet Nam and other troubles — including De Gaulle's unreciprocated — seem to have smothered his hopes for some travel abroad this year.

After a period during which a number of ambassadors here complained of not seeing the President, he has become more accessible. For one thing, he has taken some of them for boat rides on the Palomares.

Policy Advisers

Johnson continues to rely heavily on the top foreign policy advisers of the late president John F. Kennedy. In picking ambassadors he has tended to choose a higher ratio of professional diplomats from the ranks than his predecessor. A recent count showed 75 per cent of the Johnson ambassadorial appointees came from career foreign service ranks, compared with about 60 per cent under Kennedy.

Family Tries to Unscramble Payday-to-Payday Existence

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley:

For many years we have lived a payday-to-payday existence. We decided last January that budgeting and proper handling of our income was the only answer. So we started to compile a year's list of expenditures in the hope that this would lay a sound foundation for 1966.

Well, you couldn't possibly ever have seen a wilder set of figures than those we have compiled!

We just do not have any sensible plan to work with. We need some percentages—some sort of guide or breakdown of the budget categories in relation to the incoming dollar.

We are a family of seven—two adults and five children, ages 13 to one-year-old. Our income is $6,300 a year.

We are waiting until January to set up a budget in line with this income, because at that time our present indebtedness will be at a point that would allow for a possibly successful attempt to maintain a sane, workable and compatible plan.

We are hoping that you will aid us in our goal.

Mr. and Mrs. H.P.S., Mesquite, Texas

Every time I urge a family to set up a sensible budget and try to live by it I know how it sounds: "Come on in, the water's fine."

Actually, your first serious try at living on your income is like jumping into a refreshing pool of spring water. It's not only refreshing—it's freezing cold. But after a little while you adjust to the temperature, and your natural instinct for survival raises your body temperature to a compatible level.

It happens with money, too. You have $6,300 a year to live on. So you have to adjust your standard of living to this financial temperature in order to be comfortable. In my books, "comfortable" means being able to pay your bills, sleep at night, and have a few things you really want.

"I'm going to give you some budget figures which are based on the national averages of family spending. I don't say your own particular household must go by these exact percentages. But they do represent a guide:

Expenses	Family Income
Housing	15-30
Household Operating Costs	5-15
Food	15-40
Clothing (including upkeep)	8-15
Savings (including insurance)	5-15
Personal Allowance (For lunches, personal grooming, etc.)	2-6
Medical Costs (doctor, dentist, drugs)	2-10
Recreation and Vacation	2-10
Education, Books, Magazines, Newspapers	2-6
Transportation	8-15
Miscellaneous (Gifts, Contributions, etc.)	4-16

Now sit down with pencil and paper breaking that $6,300 down to monthly net figures. Split these figures into these percentages, and see how the plan shapes up. If it pinches here and there, let out the seams. Or take in a tuck where certain areas of spending don't require as much as I allowed.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Twelve years ago I bought $250 bonds in the name of two great-nieces. Since then, many more have been born.

I don't think it is fair to give to two and nothing to the rest. But my income from Social Security does not cover the rest. Is it possible to put the bonds

Fitzpatrick Faces Rebuilding Project At St. John High

Defending FVCC Co-Champions Have Only 4 Lettermen Back

BY JIM HARP
News-Record Staff Writer

LITTLE CHUTE — Coach Bill Fitzpatrick, of the St. John High School football team, faces a major rebuilding project for the 1965 season and the Chute mentor readily admits his charges look "unusually light and lacking in experience."

Fitzpatrick got his first good look at the squad in a scrimmage with Fox Valley Lutheran

Tuesday afternoon. After the workout, he had praise for a number of the griders, but said the squad lacked timing and some of the players still were not familiar with their assignments.

Catholic Conference last season, have only four lettermen returning from a senior-dominated squad. Major losses were at quarterback and in the line and Fitzpatrick has been trying to find suitable replacements at these spots.

Letter Winners

The returning letter winners are halfback Gary Romanesko, fullback Tim Wegand, guard Joe Schaeffer and end Dave Hammen. The only other players who saw any amount of experience last season are back Ken Vanden Burgt and back Oscar Schuler.

Jerry Janssen and Schuler have been handling most of the quarterback work so far, but Fitzpatrick is hoping sophomore Lee Weyenberg will improve rapidly so he can move Schuler to one of the other backfield spots.

Wegand has the inside track on the fullback spot and Romanesko has nailed down a halfback position. Vanden Burgt also appears a likely starter for the other halfback spot, but some strong competition is running among backfield candidates.

Fullback Candidates

In addition to Wegand, the fullback candidates are Gary Van Lankvelt, junior; Ron Vanden Zanden, junior and Dick Hermesen, sophomore.

In the line, the center prospects are John Peeters, senior and sophomores Ron Van Thiel and Bob Mitchell. Schaeffer will

Reds Beat Braves Twice, Take Lead As Dodgers Lose Pair to Pittsburgh

Ninth Inning Again Proves Fatal to O'Dell

CINCINNATI (AP) — The script, getting dog-eared from use, calls for Milwaukee Braves' Manager Bobby Bragan to bring in Billy O'Dell from the bullpen to preserve a slim ninth inning lead against the Cincinnati Reds.

The script has O'Dell failing, and the Reds winning the game. Bragan, O'Dell and the Reds followed the script to the letter again Wednesday night as the Braves dropped the first game of a doubleheader 7-6.

The Rhinelanders also won the second game 2-0 behind the five-hit pitching of Jim Maloney and moved into first place in the National League pennant race.

O'Dell, who has failed repeatedly against the Reds this season, was brought on in relief of Bob Sadowski in the ninth inning with the Braves ahead 6-5, one out and a runner on first base.

Harper Singles

He got the first batter, Lee May, to bounce out, but Tommy Helms sliced an opposite field triple and the score was tied. In came Dan Osinski to pitch to Tommy Harper, who delivered a single to left and that was the ball game.

Twice last week, O'Dell was brought in to pitch the ninth against the Reds. Both times he surrendered game-deciding home run balls.

Roseboro, of Dodgers, Files $100,000 Suit

Charges Marichal Attacked Him Without Provocation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Catcher John Roseboro of the Los Angeles Dodgers has filed a $100,000 damage suit against the San Francisco Giants and their star pitcher, Juan Marichal, who clubbed Roseboro with a baseball bat Aug. 22.

Roseboro's attorney, Leo Branton Jr., said in Los Angeles that a complaint has been filed in Superior Court against Marichal and the Giants seeking $100,000 in general damages and $100,000 in exemplary and punitive damages.

He said the suit avers that Marichal "did without provocation commit assault and battery against the plaintiff with a deadly weapon, that Roseboro was severely injured and was caused pain and suffering."

Set Bad Example

Roseboro, in Pittsburgh for the Dodgers' series against the Pirates, said in a statement Wednesday night he brought suit for "the unprovoked attack made upon me at Candlestick Park..." Marichal opened a two-inch gash on Roseboro's head in the explosive brawl. Roseboro said, "My decision to take this action is due not only to the brutal attack upon my person, but, just as important, is due to the fact that some severe action should be taken against a man who not only set a bad example for millions of baseball fans throughout the world, but apparently from recent statements has attempted to defend and justify his outrageous conduct."

Marichal, in Philadelphia where his first scheduled start since the incident was washed out, declined comment except to say, "I wish I had that much, half that much, quarter that much."

Koufax Loses Opener in 11 Innings After Setting NL Strikeout Record

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lake Humpty Dumpty, the Los Angeles Dodgers have had a great fall, and now they must wonder whether Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale can put them back together again.

Koufax and Drysdale, the winningest pair of pitchers on any team in the majors, were on the bottom of the fall Wednesday night as the charging Pittsburgh Pirates dropped them in a doubleheader 3-2 in 11 innings and 2-1.

The double defeat tumbled the Dodgers out of the National

Lombardi Surprises Packers by Running 15-Minute Scrimmage

GREEN BAY (AP) — Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi surprised his Packers with a 15-minute scrimmage Wednesday in their drills for Saturday night's exhibition game with the National Football League's defending champion Cleveland Browns.

Scrimmages are unusual occurrences once the team has begun its playing season, but the drill apparently was triggered by the Packers' failure to score a touchdown in last Saturday's 21-12 loss to the Cowboys at Dallas.

It was the first time in 35 games, dating back to the opener of the 1963 league season against Chicago, that the Packers failed to score a touchdown. Wednesday's goal line scrimmage started at the 10-yard line

Hawks Seek Revenge for 1964 Defeat

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Xavier High School's football forces hope to launch their 3-pronged "operation revenge" Friday night in Milwaukee.

The Hawks open their 1965 campaign against Francis Jordan High School at 8 p.m. Friday on Custer Field, W. Fairmont and N. 46th.

Jordan's mighty aerial assault vanquished Xavier, 26-12, last year to snap the state's longest football winning streak at 31 games.

After the non-conference loss to Jordan, Xavier also bowed successfully to non-league Rhinelander and a Fox Valley Catholic Conference foe, Menasha St. Mary. The Hawks will play these two rivals at home later this season in other missions of retribution.

6-Game Streak

If the Gene (Torchy) Clark-coached Hawks are to extend their current victory streak — they toppled the last six opponents in '64 to gain a share of a fourth straight FVCC title — they'll have to fortify their anti-aircraft defenses.

Last year, Jordan quarterback Gary McCoy threw four touchdown passes — three to end Rex Lowe and the other to halfback Jerry Jilbert. All three of these stars are included among Jordan's imposing roster of 16 returning lettermen.

All told, McCoy threw 18 scoring strikes last season — 17 of them to the 6-foot-2 Lowe. McCoy completed 89 of 172 passes for 1,634 yards. Lowe grabbed 33 of them for 720 yards.

Lowe got behind the Xavier secondary on the first scrimmage play of last year's game to grab a pass and score on an 80-yard play. The Hawks rallied to tie the score, 6-6, at halftime.

In the second half, McCoy threw TD passes of 6 and 25 yards to Lowe and a 4-yarder to Jilbert. Though Jilbert was hurt subsequently in the campaign, he scored five touchdowns.

Packers Have Proven Selves At Box Office

Exhibition Total May Nearly Reach 300,000 Mark

GREEN BAY (AP) — Win, lose or draw in their remaining two exhibition games, the Green Bay Packers have already proven themselves at the box office.

The National Football League in three games thus far and seems certain to play its final two pre-season games before capacity crowds.

Ticket Director Merrill Knowlton announced Wednesday that almost 50,000 tickets have already been sold for the Packers' Sept. 11 meeting in Green Bay with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The gate may well rival that of the Packers' exhibition opener Aug. 14 when 50,837 persons jammed Lambeau Field to watch the Packers play the New York Giants. The crowd was the largest ever to attend a professional football game in Wisconsin.

A total of 47,066 persons attended the Chicago Bears-Packers game in Milwaukee Aug. 21, a record for the annual Midwest Shrine football game. Attendance was put at 67,954 for last Saturday's Packers-Cowboys game in Dallas, Tex. The crowd was the largest ever at a professional football game in Texas.

A sellout crowd is expected Saturday at Cleveland when the Packers clash with the Browns as part of an exhibition double-header.

If final figures stand up in the pre-game estimates, the Packers should close their exhibition season after playing before almost 300,000 fans.

Senate Unit Gives Feuders a Week

AAU, NCAA Get Ultimatum

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wrangling bosses of U.S. amateur track and field affairs have been told by the Senate Commerce Committee to arrange peace terms within a week or Congress will be asked to settle the dispute for them.

To a man the committee members hope Congress can sit on the sidelines and watch peace descend, but none predicts this will happen.

At war over jurisdictional matters are the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). These central issues are in dispute:

1. The NCAA's demand for the right to grant or withhold sanction for college athletes to participate in the "open" amateur track and field meets staged by AAU.

2. The AAU's counter-claim that to yield to the demand would involve the risk that the International Track and Field body for the amateur sport, Federation, a world governing might bar American athletes who won the right to represent the United States in international track meets.

A Dim View
AAU contends it is rated by IAAF as the sole sanctioning power and that the international body would take a dim view of recognizing meets sanctioned jointly by NCAA and AAU.

Both sides concede that the nation's top amateur athletes — college talent subject to NCAA jurisdiction and noncollege athletes subject to AAU — must compete against each other in open meets to sharpen their skills for top performance against the world's best.

A purported peace conference between AAU and NCAA top officials Tuesday failed to produce a peace plan. The committee called both sides into a closed meeting Wednesday and served its ultimatum.

The chairman, Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and others in the committee have made it clear they won't stand still while young athletes, some of them of Olympic caliber, are barred from needed "open" competition and threatened discipline if they rebel.

Paul Warfield's Loss Handicaps Browns

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland's hopes of repeating as National Football League champions suffered a body blow in the College All-Star game when Paul Warfield, the Browns' leaping split end, was put out of action for 10 weeks with a broken collar bone.

Warfield's loss was a severe handicap to the Browns because the former Ohio State athlete caught 52 passes last year and gave the club an outside threat on the opposite side of the line from flanker Gary Collins. No longer could the opposition key on Collins as the chief air threat and Jim Brown as the entire ground game.

Little Walter Roberts, the 5-10, 163-pound "flea" from San Jose State, has been doing an exceptional job filling in for Warfield in the exhibition games. Coach Blanton Collier has been using both Roberts and 6-2 Clifton McNeil at split end and also has used McNeil behind Collins as flanker.

Brown Ready
But Warfield or no Warfield, the heart of the Cleveland ball club still is Jim Brown. The 29-year-old fullback, who has led the league in rushing in seven of his eight years in pro ball, is ready for another big season.

Ernie Green came on strong last year as a running mate for J.B. and Leroy Kelly has been running strong behind Green.

Warfield, of course, is the key receiver for Frank Ryan, the much-maligned quarterback who came into his own last season with 25 touchdown passes.

Ryan's chief targets are Warfield and Collins with an occasional flip to tight end Johnny Brewer Brown, of course, is a prime target on the screen pass. Roberts, McNeil and Tom Hutchinson back up the regulars.

Ninowski in Reserve
If anything happens to Ryan, Collier has Jim Ninowski, a seasoned veteran who probably could be No. 1 on several NFL clubs.

The offensive line that does such a good job of keeping defenders off Ryan's back is composed of Dick Schafrath and Monte Clarke at the tackles, John Wooten and Gene Hickerson at guards and John Morrow at center.

Collier hopes to get some rookie help for the older members of his defensive line from rookies Jim Garcia of Purdue and Walter Johnson of Los Angeles State. Paul Wiggins, 30, and Bill Glass, 30, at the ends and Dick Modzelewski, 34, at one tackle have a little age. Jim Kanicki, the other tackle, is only 23.

Lindsey Impressive
Vince Costello, middle line-backer, is 32, and Galen Fiss, the right side man, is 34 but Jim Houston on the left is only 27. Dale Lindsey, rookie from Western Kentucky, has impressed Mike Howell, brother of Lane Howell of Philadelphia, has been battling the veteran Bernie Parrish for the left corner job in the deep defense. Howell is a former quarterback from Grambling. Walt Beach will man the other corner and Ross Fichtner and Larry Benz will be the safety men.

Of course, 41-year-old Lou Groza, starting his 19th year as a pro, will kick points and field goals adding to his record scoring total in every game Collins will punt.

It also notes that some license fees may be boosted by recently passed legislation.

Citing a special bear season to encourage hunting with dogs, the folder says cubs smaller than a 100 - pound potato sack are protected and advises: "If there is any doubt, don't shoot."

Across the line, Xavier will start Heideman and Tom Heinrich, ends. Tim Wenzel and Mike Van Lieshout, tackles. Jack Herb and Mike Gregorius, guards; and Dennis Mannebach, center.

Van Dyke, who ran from right halfback last year, averaged 5.4 yards for each of 25 carries. He has been moved to left half.

Smith, one of Xavier's best all-around players and a 2-year letterman, hasn't had any contact work for 10 days because of a clavicle injury. If he is unable to start, Graff will take over at right half.

Two other mainstays, Zwicker and Herb, have been slowed by ankle injuries but are expected to play.

Because of injuries, transfers and football drop-outs, Xavier personnel has been spread fairly thin this year. A total of only 23 juniors and seniors were out for practice at a recent session. The Hawks have nine lettermen.

Most of the Xavier starters will go both ways. Van Dyke, who saw no defensive action last year, will be a 2-way player.

Gene Marick, a transfer student who was a potential starter, has been declared ineligible.

Jordan's starting offensive team will probably be: Lowe and Ken Elzel, ends; Jim Hogan and Jim Cook, tackles; Tom Gamroth and Howard Healy, guards; and Scott Kusch, center. In the backfield will be McCoy, Mike Corcoran, Gilbert and Jerry Jimmer. Fullback Jimmer is the only non-letterman in the starting offensive alignment. Eight of the Cards are hold-over regulars from the team that was 7-2 last year.

Xavier enters the '65 grid campaign with a record of 45 wins, one tie and only five losses in the six years of its history.

Oliva Slams Three Hits in Twnis' 5-2 Victory Over Tigers

Yanks Err Seven Times in 7-6 Extra-Inning Loss to Angels

When baseball starts handing out its post-season awards, it's just possible that Minnesota's Tony Oliva will wind up with his second silver bat and first purple heart.

Oliva, who has been playing all season long with a bone chip in the middle finger of his right hand, came back from a week's layoff Wednesday night and resumed defense of his American League batting title with two doubles and a single in the Twins' 5-2 victory over Detroit.

The 24-year-old left-handed swinger still trails Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, who is hitting .323, and Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, swinging at a .319 clip, in the three-way struggle for the title and the silver bat that goes with it.

But Oliva's 3-for-4 performance quickly shot him back into contention with a .315 mark as he attempts to become the first batting champion to repeat since Boston's Ted Williams accomplished the feat in 1957 and 1958.

Oliva, who stroked 217 hits for a .323 average as a rookie last season, now has collected 161 hits and also could put together a rare double if he can overhaul Yastrzemski and Robinson while reaching the 200-hit level in the Twins' remaining 27 games.

Only two AL batting champions ever have won successive batting titles with 200-hit sea-

Redskins' Seals Leaves Camp

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — George Seals, counted on by the Washington Redskins as a key man in a rebuilt offensive line, left the training camp here Tuesday night and the Redskins said Wednesday they had been unable to locate him.

The 260-pound guard had a brief fight with defensive tackle Joe Rutgens during practice Tuesday and stalked off the field before the session was over.

empty in the sixth inning off Luis Tiant.

The Senators pulled out front to stay, 8-6, in the seventh inning after the Red Sox had tied the score in their half with a three-run rally built on Jim Gosger's double, four walks, two wild pitches and a sacrifice fly. Ken McMullen's double and Willie Kirkland's single broke the tie and Don Lock singled in the final run.

The Yankees contributed to their own downfall by committing seven errors and having two men picked off. The winning run in the 12th was set up when Pedro Ramos issued two-out walks to Bob Rodgers and Paul Schaal. Jose Cardenal then singled Rodgers home with the winning run for the Angels.

Elsewhere, Kansas City edged Cleveland 4-3, Washington outlasted Boston 8-7 and the Los Angeles Angels nipped the New York Yankees 7-6 in 12 innings.

Oliva, who is second in the league in runs scored with 96 third in doubles with 33 and fourth in runs batted in with 83, doubled home the first run and then scored on a passed ball in a three-run first inning outburst against the Tigers.

Worthington Helps

The three-run first inning uprising proved enough as Jim Perry brought his record to 9-5 with Al Worthington's ninth-inning relief help. Ray Oyler accounted for Detroit's runs with a homer.

Home runs by Bill Bryan and Wayne Causey got the job done for the A's. The Indians took a 2-0 lead against John O'Donoghue in the second but Bryan hit a three-run shot in the A's half and Causey hit what turned out to be the clincher with the bases

Wills Apologizes to Giles For Making Critical Remarks

CINCINNATI (AP) — Maury Wills sent a telegram Wednesday to Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, apologizing for critical remarks he was quoted as having made last week.

A league spokesman said the Los Angeles shortstop telephoned Giles to apologize about his remarks in connection with the penalty Giles imposed on San Francisco Giants pitcher Juan Marichal, who hit Dodgers catcher John Roseboro with a bat Aug. 22.

Giles fined Marichal $1,750 and suspended him for eight days, a punishment which many players regarded as too mild.

The league office released the text of Wills' telegram, which said:

"Following up my telephone conversation with you, I assure you (that) in the quotes attributed to me that you were a 'gutless so and so' I was not referring to you at all, but to an entirely different person.

"The quotation about me referring to your decision as gutless was said in anger when all I could think of was my roommate Roseboro. I am very sorry the whole incident happened.

"I now realize what a hard thing this has been for you to handle. I have too much respect for you to mean a thing like that. I appreciate your understanding and accepting my explanation and apology."

Giles had no comment on the telegram.

Dodgers Lose Doubleheader

nearly the entire season with their overpowering pitching. Since they usually follow each other in the starting rotation, Los Angeles rarely has lost more than two consecutive games.

Lost Consecutively Once

In fact before the doubleheader with Pittsburgh, Koufax and Drysdale had lost in consecutive turns only once before this season — way back in April.

Now, not only have they lost consecutive games in six hours, but they also have dropped seven of their last 10 decisions, Koufax losing three in a row and bringing his record to 21-7. Drysdale now is 18-12.

The way things are going, Manager Walter Alston will need even more than some of the king's horses and some of his men.

In other NL games, St. Louis trounced Chicago 9-0 and New York defeated Houston 4-1 before bowing 8-5.

Broke Whiff Mark

En route to his latest loss, Koufax broke his 1963 National League season strikeout record of 306 by fanning 10 Pirates and bringing his total to 313, just 35 away from Bob Feller's all-time mark.

The Pirates won the game in the 11th on walk to Willie Stargell and Jim Pagliaroni's double. In the nightcap, Bill Virdon, who tied the contest with a sixth-inning homer, singled in the eighth, raced to third on Roberto Clemente's single and scored as Maury Wills fumbled Manny Mota's grounder.

Juan Marichal lost a chance to start his first game since ending his eight-day suspension when rain kept the Giants and Philadelphia from playing Marichal, suspended and fined for hitting Los Angeles' John Roseboro over the head with a bat, was scheduled to start today.

Stallard Hurls Shutout Tracy Stallard posted the Cardinals' second straight shutout over the Cubs with a three-hitter. Curt Flood knocked in two runs while Bob Skinner homered.

Joe Christopher's two-run triple in the eighth helped New York's Al Jackson to his seventh victory against 17 defeats in the opener. The Astros came back for the second-game victory as Rusty Staub hit a three-run homer and Jim Gentile drove in three runs with two homers.

Buy 1½ Rain Tires, get 2.

Buy one at our no-trade-in price and get the second for half that price (plus tax on two tires). No trade-in required.

This is the time to get those two Rain Tires you've been thinking of getting. One at our no-trade-in price. The second for half that price.

But if you want to play it really smart, we suggest you buy three Rain Tires at our no-trade-in price. And get the fourth at no additional cost (except the tax on four tires).

Then you'll have a complete set of Rain Tires for your car.

With them, you'll be able to stop 30% shorter on a rain-soaked road than you could when your car was brand new. And on a wet curve, you'll hold the road 50% better.

You'll be in great shape when the sun comes out, too. Because a set of Rain Tires will give you more control in passing and cornering on a dry road than the tires that came with your car. And less wander when you're driving down a straightaway at 70 or 80.

(That's how much difference there is between The Rain Tire and the tires that originally came with the '64, '63 or '62 cars. If you own a '61 or earlier car, the improvement is even more dramatic.)

Just make sure you get The Rain Tire. The one that says U.S. Royal Tire on the side. (Remember, one at our no-trade-in price will get you a second one for half that price.)

And don't settle for anything else. Even if somebody wants to give it to you for nothing.

Smothers Brothers Are Folk Music Spoofers

Comedy Team Begins TV Series in Fall;
Tom Plays Bewildered Angel on Probation

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — If they are as funny on television as they are on a night club floor, then the Smothers Brothers should be television's freshest comedy team since Martin and Lewis.
Tom and Dick Smothers are basically folk singers but though they sing the ethnic songs like "John Henry" or as his close friends called him, Jack Hank, they just use music as an excuse for comedy.
Dick, in the tradition of comedy teams, is the straight man of the act. Tom is the bewildered angel who plays guitar and blinks out at the world in tortured confusion.
At Las Vegas, they proved to be the comedy hit of the summer season. And no place hates folk singers more than Las Vegas.
Only Belafonte has cracked the Nevada resort in the past. Come Sept. 17, the Smothers Brothers television series makes its debut on CBS.
The format has Tom coming to earth as a bewildered angel — on probation. It takes off from there.
Perfectionists both, the two were not satisfied with their first shows. They hired a new producer-director, Freddy De Cordova, and will re-shoot most of them. They, naturally, own a piece of the show.
Both brothers report that the question most frequently asked them is "Is Smothers really your name?"
It is. They are the sons of a West Pointer who survived the Bataan death march only to die on a World War II prison ship.
The two have just come up in recent years, starting at San Francisco.
In a sense, they are the Spike Jones of folk music, spoofing the music that the avant garde groups dig.

Artificial Seaweed Used in Experiment To Stop Erosion

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The founding of the Colonial Conservation Department says it will be at least a year or two before it's known whether artificial seaweed is halting erosion.

The Puritans were very religious people who worked hard to carve a home from the wilderness. But on Saturday night everyone let down his hair and relaxed around the fireside with a fun-packed, frolicsome witch burning.

To Your Good Health

Women Should Watch Weight While Pregnant

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. figures and have had more babies than that, but usually you'll find that they had more recovery time between pregnancies.

I have had five children, ranging from six years to four months, and have been exercising nearly every day now for nearly three months.
The results are not startling. I don't have a weight problem, although I do have five more pounds to lose to get back to normal.

Dr. Molner

normal. It seems my entire middle, from midriff to lower abdomen, is nothing but a mass of flab.

I'm so discouraged. Is it possible to get all those muscles nice and tight again, or should I just resign myself to a middle-aged figure at the age of 30?—Mrs. J. W.

A good deal of getting your figure back depends on what happens before the baby arrives. That is, don't put on too much weight during pregnancy. A maximum gain of 20 pounds is a good rule to follow. For a woman who is overweight to begin with, a somewhat smaller gain is reasonable.
If, after three months of exercises, you still have five pounds to shed, it's evident that you gained too much. So get rid of the five pounds. Some of the excess weight is in that midriff flab.

Permanent Marks
You doubtless are familiar with stretch marks. These are due to stretching or breaking of fibrous supporting tissue in the skin. These are permanent, since this type of tissue does not go back to its original condition. The same sort of thing occurs in the fibrous tissue and muscles deeper in the abdominal wall. With the fibrous tissues you can't expect much improvement. However, there's a brighter side. Unused muscles in the wall can be toned up by exercise.

You may not get back to the figure you had at age 20, but you can do some further improving. After all, you've had five children in six years, and that hasn't given you much time between babies to get your figure back in shape. There are mothers who have very good

Leo Durocher Appears on The Munsters

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7 (Channels 2-7-12) — Baseball fans will get a kick out of The Munsters which has a better show than usual. Seems Herman (Fred Gwynne) can throw a baseball eight blocks, can field flies up against a fence and wind up wearing the fence, and really break up a double play. All this talent is spotted by Leo Durocher, who invites Herman to a Dodger tryout despite the fact that Leo thinks the family "looks like a bunch of wetbacks from the Petrified Forest." The end, involving another big name athlete, is a funny twist. (R)

7-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — "The Case of the Shapely Shadow" on Perry Mason has been adapted from one of Erle Stanley Gardner's novels. But it's still a confusing affair, involving a girl who may or may not be a blackmailer, and her employer, who may or may not be the blackmailee. Lots of red herrings here. (R)

7:30-8 (Channels 11-6-9) — When Chip gets ill just as Steve is about to take a Hawaiian vacation, the boys on My Three Sons, including the recovered Chip, decide to bring Hawaii to the Douglas back yard. The results are amusing, as Charley tries to buy a whole pig, school teachers keep showing up to replace the teacher Steve should have met on the cruise and even the weather "cooperates." (R)

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — Dr. Kildare begins a two-parter with equal doses of romance and therapeutic drama. Yvette Mi-mieux plays one of those sleek, bikini-clad golden girls who wants to be best at everything. But Richard Chamberlain finds she has the form of epilepsy called Petit Mal. If she stays quiet, the disease can be contained, if not cured. But will the lure of surfing and her search for a huge wave, send her rushing headlong into Grand Mal? (R)

8-8:30 (Channels 11-9) — Bewitched makes the most of a very funny idea—and Alice Pearce's comic talents. When Miss Pearce, as nosy neighbor Gladys, catches Elizabeth Montgomery in the act of witchcraft, Liz convinces Gladys SHE is the one with the power. Watching her try to "think" a hose into turning on, of a stove into lighting, while husband George Tobias makes cracks, is very amusing. (R)

9-10 (Channels 4-5) — "Graffiti" on Kraft Suspense Theater has an extremely exciting World War II prison escape scene. The escapees are Louis Jourdan, a French resistance leader whose true identity is not known to the Nazis, and Philippe Forquet, sent to prison to kill Jourdan to prevent his possible torture and revelation of facts. Much of this show is visual, and contains nail-chewing suspense. Forquet, a French actor, is an attractive performer in his American TV debut. (Color-R)

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

False, unless they are completely psychotic. The main problem may be to be reasonable in the right places. When people hold opinions for largely emotional reasons, it is usually futile to reason about these opinions. What you can and should reason about are the emotional bases for the opinions.

Why do you want so much to believe as you do? This is essentially what the psychiatrist does. Find the place where the individual can be reasonable, and work on that.

Will scientists ever control heredity?

Yes. Important steps toward this have already been made. Among other things, scientists have begun to decipher the "genetic code" that appears to consist of four major chemicals in an intricate, complex arrangement.

If this can be read and affected, many of our hereditary defects could be reduced or even eliminated. On the other hand, under the control of Hiller, it might become possible to produce human monstrosities. Let us hope that moral and spiritual growth will keep pace with our scientific knowledge.

Beat Lure of Shopping Centers

Downtown Fresno Merchants Delighted With Mall Experiment

By STEPHEN SANGER
FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — One year ago the City of Fresno, in a spectacular reply to the lure of suburban shopping centers, ripped out 10 blocks of its main downtown business street and put in a pedestrian mall.

People wondered — will it work? Today, busily waiting on customers who stroll in from the flower, tree-shaded mall, storekeepers are almost unanimous in answering that, yes it is working, fabulously well.

About the only opposition has come from one shoe store owner who declines to give his reasons. He planted onions in one of the flowerbeds as a form of protest.

Downtown Fulton Street was noisy, dirty, clogged with cars, and parking was a long-shot gamble. Sprightly Place Today the $1.6-million, 10-block mall, financed by urban renewal and local funds, is a sprightly place. It invites strollers to relax and seems to put them in a buying mood.

Splashing fountains, small watercourses, shaded benches and small protected play areas for the kids dot the entire stretch.

Beds of flowers are kept in bloom, and $150,000 worth of modern statuary adds to the atmosphere.

For those who tire of walking, there are pleasant, quiet electric carts, chauffeur-driven at 10 cents a ride.

Nearby parking is cheap or free, but still not entirely adequate.

Sample comments from officials of larger stores on the mall include:

"We invested on the basis the mall would get it back for us. Our business has increased substantially. We are delighted."

"The only guy who would be against this would be against motherhood."

Profits Up "Our gross profits are up 18 per cent during the year. We spend a lot on advertising, and we consider the mall in the same category. It attracts customers."

"It's more convenient now for shoppers to get in and out. Our business is up 30 per cent."

Small-business men's representative comments include:

"I'm pleased. Customers enjoy the quiet atmosphere. It's convenient to park. Business has improved. The general atmosphere puts the customer in a buying mood."

"When the mall is busy it has the leader. This is but one of the many attractions of the $1.6 million mall which is just one year old. The once dirty thoroughfare now is a big downtown business booster. (AP Wirephoto)

FUN FOODS for Patio Parties and Cook-Outs

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

There's something about Labor Day that lends itself to outdoor eating with a special festive air. Maybe it's the long weekend that helps create the party mood . . . maybe it's because the holiday represents the end of summer and the beginning of a new season of school and work. Certainly the time of harvest makes foods plentiful . . . the country landscape and fresh, clear air with its hint of crispness lures the traveler and reminds the camping family that care-free days are numbered.

It's the smart homemaker who plans a menu that's switchable. Should days turn penetratingly cold, the food still can be served with success indoors where warm comfort is welcomed. There's really nothing quite so devastating as a picnic or barbecue outdoors when the wind blows cold and chills the once-happy picnicker right to his bones. But that same meal, served in front of a blazing hearth or on a brightly decorated dining table while the rain or wind blusters on the outside, can become part of an enchanted hour.

That's why today's picnic or patio dishes have been chosen with care. They are switchables . . . working as well indoors as out so that the meal may be taken to backyard or porch if the days are mild. But if the weather frowns, serve the same foods inside.

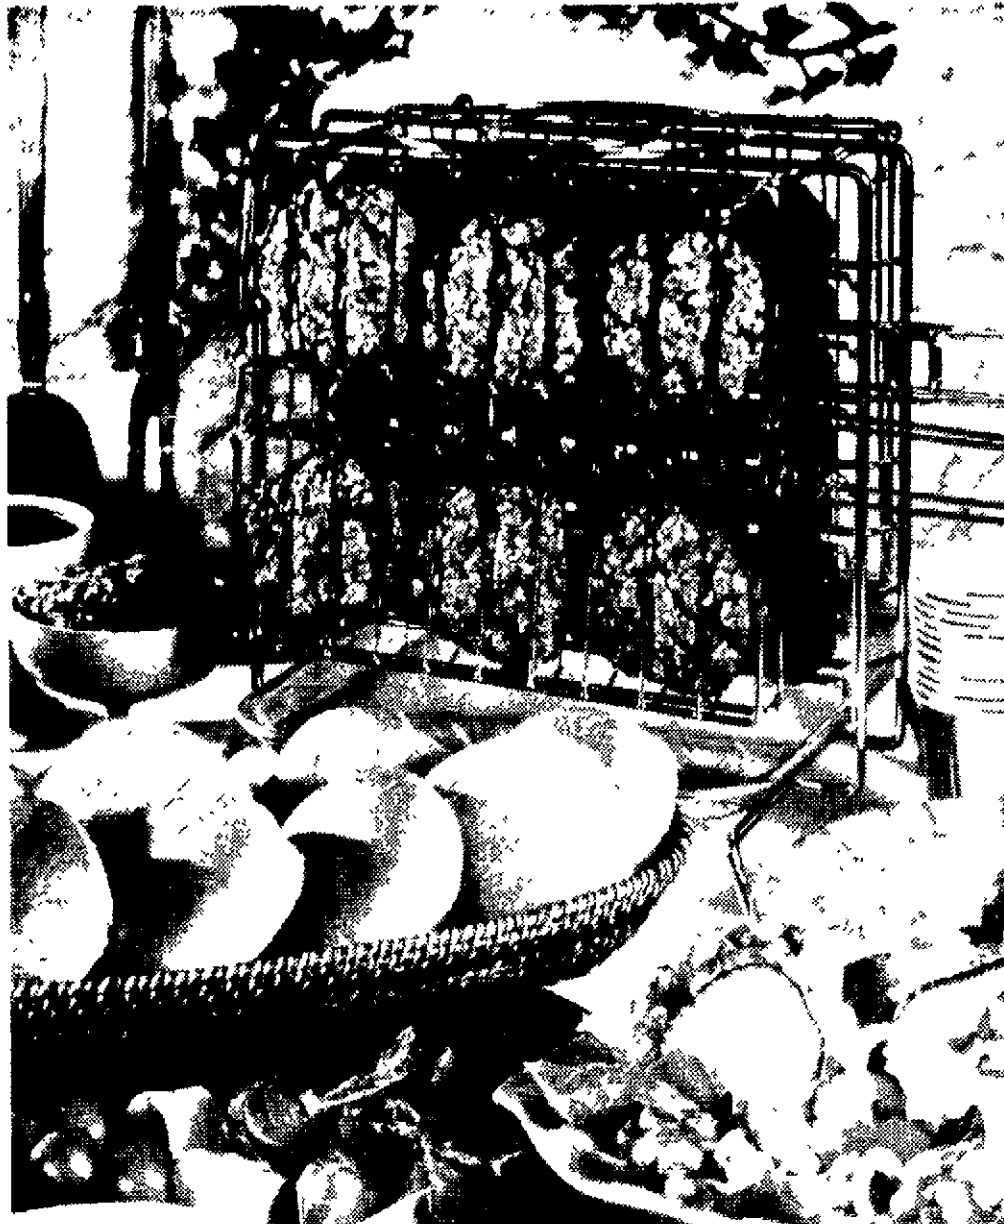

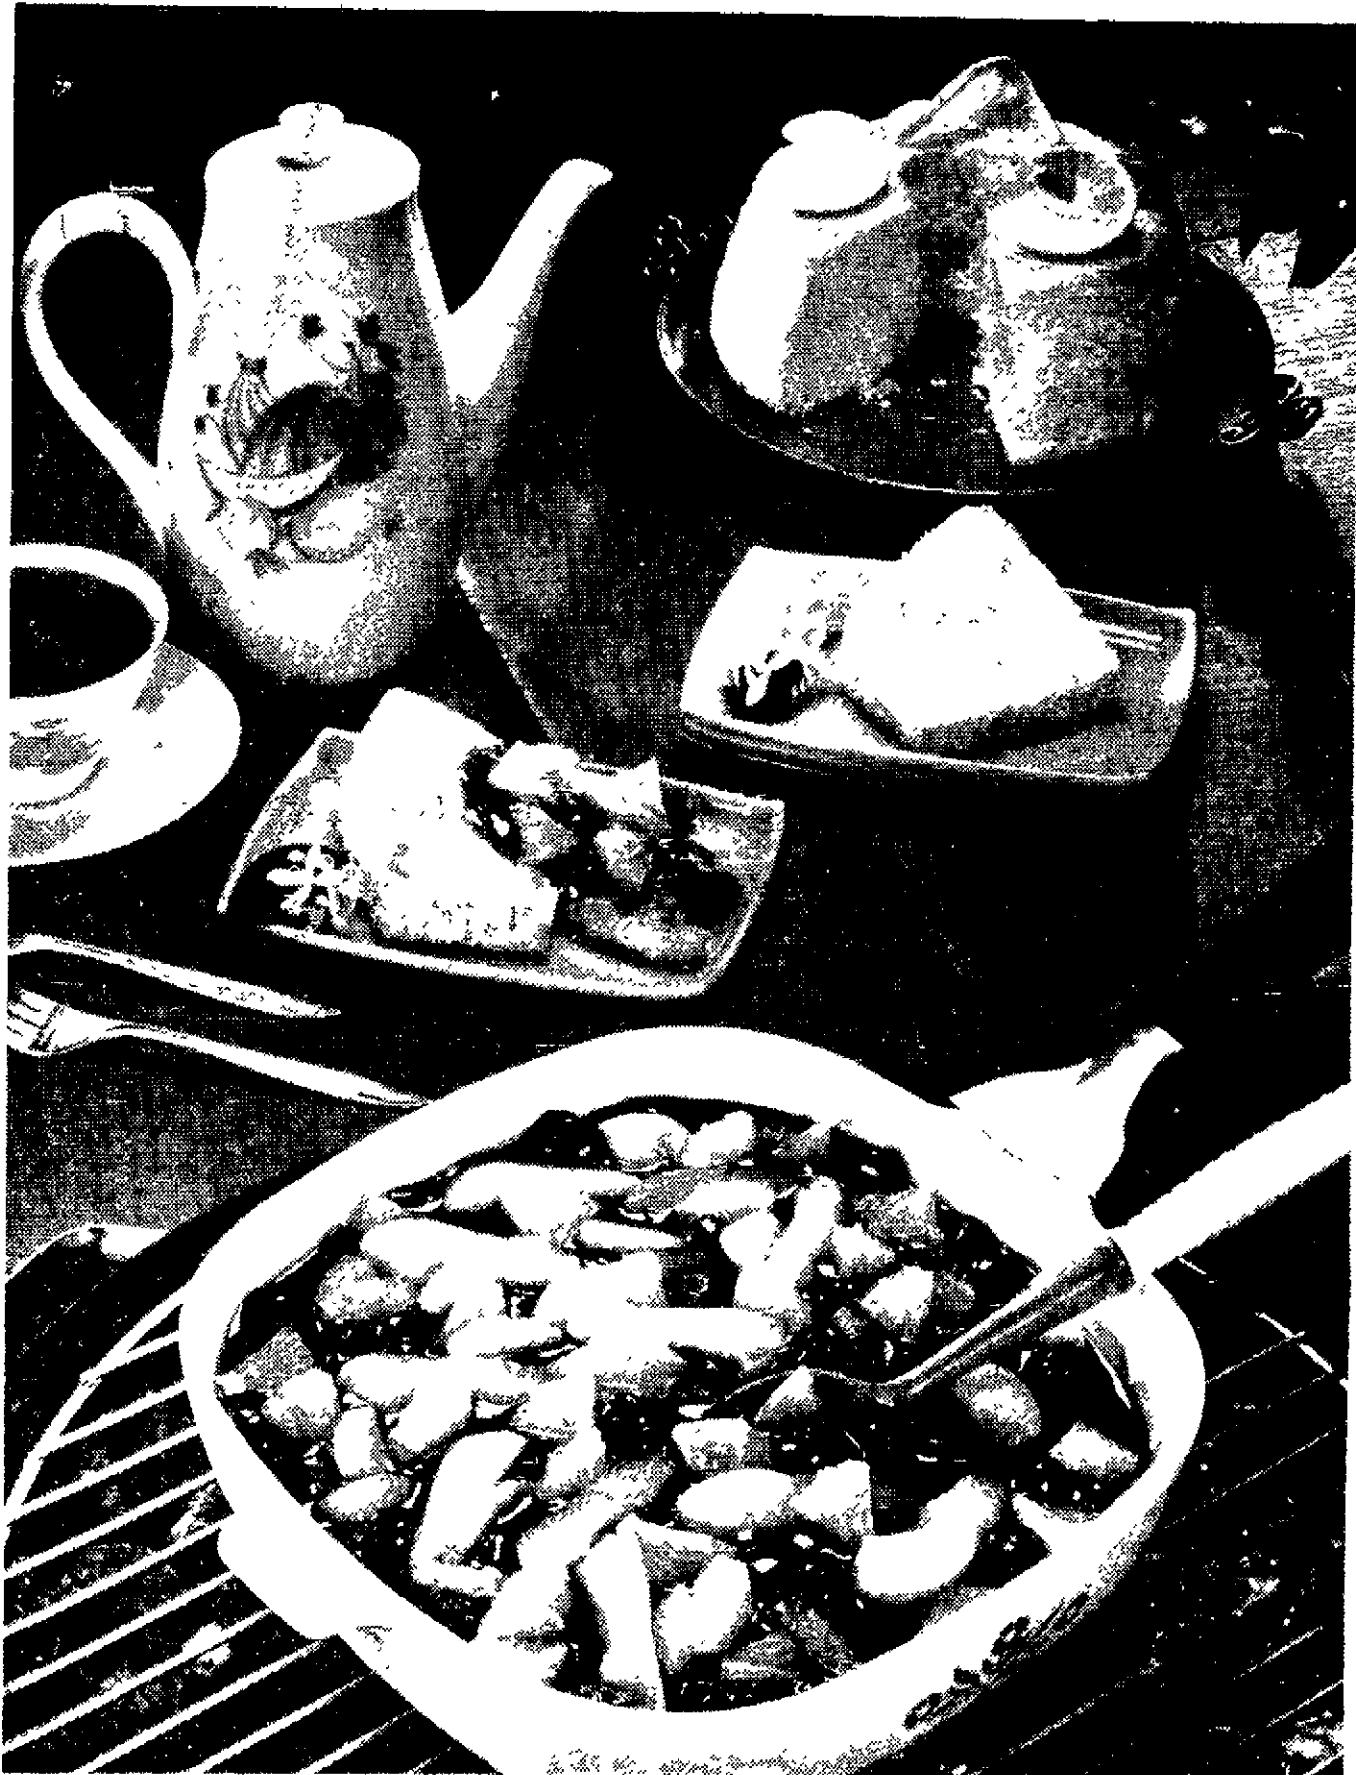

One excellent indoor serving idea practiced by many hostesses is to set up small tables . . . of the card variety . . . decorate with bright matching or contrasting linens . . . use low, attractive centerpieces to promote rather than hamper four-way conversations . . . thus creating a sort of instant party atmosphere with no trouble at all.

Hamburgers, the popular choice of all barbecue fans, are cooked a new appetizing way in the following Grand Brah Burgers. The mixture of ground beef and veal combines with bran and pungent seasonings to make a delicious mixture for charcoal grilling or broiling in the oven.

Midwestern Ham Loaf . . . a delicious meat and vegetable dish . . . can be prepared and baked in the cool of the morning. It can go to picnic or dining table chilled and sliced. This is a fine dish to serve with a favorite potato salad and fresh in-season relishes. It's also excellent served hot for family luncheon or dinner.

Then comes a recipe that's a star for patio or backyard dining. It's a new idea . . . a jubilee of fruits in a colorful and easy-to-prepare recipe that puts those last glowing coals to good use. Juicy chunks of fresh oranges along with the golden peel give flavor and contrast to canned cherries and pears in Last-of-the-Coals Fruit Jubilee. For a dash of style at a party for adults only, add brandy to

Senate Committee Okays Right-to-Work Law Repeal

Vote to be Withheld For Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharply controversial bill to repeal Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley law has cleared the Senate Labor Committee by a bigger margin than its sponsors expected.

The panel approved the measure 12 to 3 Wednesday but agreed to withhold it from the Senate until late next week so its foes could write their views on it.

The White House said after the vote President Johnson expects final congressional action before adjournment. The House passed the bill 221 to 203 in July.

Senate sponsors say they have the votes to pass the bill but expect a two-week floor battle. The big fight will be over amendments to restrict union activities.

Opposition Ready

Opponents say they have lined up 27 senators who are ready to voice their opposition at length.

Section 14B allows states to ban labor contracts that compel workers to join a union. Nineteen states have enacted such bans.

In the Senate committee, the chairman, Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and Sens. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., and Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., voted against the bill.

Ten Democrats and two Republicans — Sens. Jacob K. Javits of New York and George Murphy of California — voted to clear it. Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., voted present.

Sponsors were surprised at Murphy's vote. They had expected to get only 11 votes.

Javits said he favored the bill because he believes "we should have a truly national labor policy in its essentials, the same in every one of the 50 states."

Lift Restrictions

"We should lift the restrictions on the freedom of labor and management to bargain collectively regarding the union shop in each of the states," he said.

But, he added, there also "should be measures to provide added responsibility to complement the added authority granted to trade unions and employers under this measure." He said he would offer amendments in the Senate to accomplish this.

Republicans including Javits proposed many amendments to the committee's consideration of the bill.

All were defeated by the Democratic majority which contended that questions of revising the nation's labor laws generally should be left to a study next year.

Underwater Sound Tests to be Expanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has leased the Dresden Marina on Seneca Lake near Penn Yan, N.Y., to expand underwater sound research now under way. The marina adjoins a small site which the Naval Research Laboratory has operated since 1963. Sound research is important in the Navy's hunt for ways to cope with enemy submarines.

Redistricting Set Aside

Democrats Abandon Measures In Rush to Adjourn House, Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders Mansfield said, include bills to have decided to jettison mini-repeal state union shop bans, minimum wage, congressional redistricting and unemployment legislation in as on immigration, step up their drive for a late September adjournment.

This decision, reflected in Senate Democratic Policy Committee action, apparently has at least the tacit approval of President Johnson. The three major measures to be pigeonholed will remain alive for action in 1966.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said in an interview the party policy committee has called for Senate action on a half dozen major measures before the current session ends. 72 million more workers, is These include the $4.7-billion, jammed up because Johnson higher education aid bill on which Senate debate begins today.

Bills for Consideration
Other measures the committee wants pushed to a vote, election year would leave its benefits fresh in the minds of low-income voters.

The congressional redistricting bill, passed by the House, has had scant Senate attention. Neither house has shown any inclination to act on Johnson's proposal for standardization of state unemployment benefits.

The Senate policy group added the highway beautification bill to its list of priority legislation largely because Johnson repeatedly reported to congressional leaders that Mrs. Johnson keeps after him to get it passed.

Farm Bill
The farm bill has had heavy going in the Senate Agriculture Committee but Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said he believes the group is near an agreement on it.

The House-passed immigration measure temporarily is snarled in a dispute over whether the Senate Judiciary Committee is going to send to the calendar a proposed constitutional amendment on state legislative reapportionment.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, sponsor of the amendment, has blocked committee action on the immigration measure until he can get assurances that this reapportionment proposal will go to the calendar for action next year.

Hard to Tell
They were unable to say how many men went over to the Communist Viet Cong and how many simply returned to their villages and farms. Former Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said recently, "We have very little indication of defection to the enemy."

The Communists, too, have their desertion problem. An average of about 1,000 Communists a month are coming over to the government side, according to a recent statement by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

"We have no way of estimating the number of Viet Cong impresses who, instead of coming back to the government, wind their way back to their native South Vietnamese villages and hide out to armed forces by another 100,000 escape the Viet Cong," Wheeler said.

Tougher Job
The desertion problem makes much tougher the job of building the South Vietnamese native villages and hide out to armed forces by another 100,000 escape the Viet Cong," Wheeler said.

The Communist hard core is U.S. authorities are hopeful believed to total about 70,000 that higher pay and reforms men, many of them regular aimed at improving the lot of North Vietnamese soldiers. The soldiers and their families will part-time Viet Cong military lower the desertion rate further strength is estimated at be.

Also, the national police are between 90,000 and 100,000.

Astronauts Fly Home for Brief Family Visits

Leave Debriefing for Another Week of Seclusion in Texas

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 5 astronauts fly home to Houston, Tex., today for a joyous, but brief, reunion with their families.

L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. are scheduled to leave by plane at 1 p.m. (EST) for the three-hour flight to Ellington Air Force Base, near Houston.

Their departure will end four days of intensive debriefings here on their record eight-day orbital journey.

Technical and medical experts have wrung everything possible out of the astronauts in general terms. At the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, other specialists will keep them in seclusion another week, probing various aspects of the mission in deeper detail.

But before being spirited away, the astronauts were to be reunited with their wives and Family Greetings children.

Trudy Cooper and the two teen-age Cooper daughters and Jane Conrad and the four rambunctious Conrad boys planned to be at Ellington to greet the astronauts.

The Coopers and Conrads will ride together in automobiles the few miles to the center, where the families will have some time to be alone.

A spokesman said their privacy "will be a matter of minutes, certainly not hours."

Officials originally said Cooper and Conrad would not be able to see their families until the 11-day isolation period ended. But the excellent physical condition of the pilots apparently prompted them to relent a bit.

After the initial meeting, however, Cooper and Conrad will not be able to see their wives for another week.

The seclusion was ordered so the astronauts could discuss the flight while details were still fresh in their minds and without outside interference. Officials said much valuable information was lost after the Gemini 4 flight because astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II were rushed too quickly into welcome-home celebrations.

Officials have not revealed anything Cooper and Conrad discussed in the debriefings. They said the two would tell their own stories at a news conference in Houston Thursday, Sept. 9.

Return of Crews Marks End Of 78-Day Maritime Strike

Deck Hands, Radio Officers Vote To Ratify Four-Year Contracts

NEW YORK (AP) — Crews' return today to ships that had more than $110 million in direct been strikebound for 78 days, losses to the companies, the signaling the end of one of strikers and other employees America's longest and costliest maritime walkouts.

Some industry sources expressed fear some of the loss would continue into the future. Monday, voted Wednesday to ratify four-year contracts hampered out in long Washington sessions.

The 13,000-ton freighter American Crusader, owned by the United States Line, cast off from her Hudson River pier Wednesday night. More of the lost about 10 per cent of its business to foreign-flag competition, approximately 100 idled ships in Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports were to follow today.

Approval Indicated
Incomplete results showed members of the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots, AFL-CIO, voting heavily for the new contract.

Officials of the other striking AFL-CIO union, the American Radio Association, said their members also voted overwhelmingly to end the strike.

The vote was being tabulated, but the sailing of the American Crusader made it clear the agreement Aug. 19, freeing five American Radio Association-strikebound passenger liners.

The principal issues were The U.S. Maritime Association power on automated ships, marked intersection.

The engineers' agreement provides for a special five-man panel to work out solutions to problems stemming from automation. The panel includes AFL-CIO President George Meany and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

Three Youths Die In Two Accidents On State Roads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of three youths in a pair of accidents have brought Wisconsin's 1965 highway toll to 637, compared with 732 on this date a year ago.

Two young persons from Eau Claire died Wednesday night in a two-car collision in Chippewa County.

Killed in the accident on County Trunk T were Charles Petersen, 18, one of the drivers, and Peter Champion, 15, a passenger in the other car.

Three other youths were injured in the accident at an unmarked intersection.

Writer Knocks Generalization That American Wife Is Spoiled

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If I'm a wife who can watch the TV read another article which describes the American wife as a pampered, spoiled, pleasure-seeking parasite I will throw up. Who started this preposterous lie anyway? Why do magazine writers get away with mass produced garbage? I'll bet the "Spoiled Wife" articles are written by cigar-smoking men — and bachelors at that. You'd think the invention of the washing machine and the vacuum sweeper liberated women from housework for all time. Just because a wife doesn't make her own soap and cook on a wood stove any more doesn't mean she's sitting around the house reading novels and nibbling on bon bons. Women don't have to work as hard as they once did but neither do men. The myth that the little woman is head of the house is (the loudest laugh yet. Show me! show of her choice when a ball game or a Western is on? The American husband is the most spoiled, pampered, indulged male on the face of the earth. His mom begins the job and his wife inherits it. — Teed Holmes said, "No generalization is worth a damn — including this one." And he was so right.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a girl who is only 10 years old and I don't have the problem yet, but I want to know how to solve it when it happens. A person who has the advice all ready is better off than the person who has to start hunting for advice after things happen. My question is when a boy comes over to your house how do you get him to go home? Thank you ahead of time. — Miss Muffet Writing from Her Tuffet

Dear Miss Muffet: You are looking forward to some high class worries. Most girls worry about how to get fellows to come over and you are already worried about how to get them to go home. When you think a boy has stayed long enough say, "We will have to continue this interesting visit another time because you have to go now."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a serious problem and I pray you will help me.

I dated a boy I will call Steve for two years. He was very possessive and suspicious and checked every move I made. At first I was flattered, then he began to get on my nerves. Finally he broke up. (I should tell you that while we were going together we did some things we had no right to do. I'm lucky I didn't end up in a home for unwed mothers.)

Now, three years later, I am happily married to a man who knows all about Steve and me. Never once has he thrown it up to me, so this is not my problem. What I am worried about is this: Steve has moved back to town and is seeing the same friends we used to know together. I'm scared to death he will tell them about us.

Should I call Steve and beg him to keep quiet? — Regrets. Dear Regrets: Don't call him or he'll have one more thing to say. A gentleman never tells and a heel never keeps quiet because a girl asks him to. Your best bet is to forget the past and hope Steve does the same. When necking becomes petting, watch out! To learn how the smart girl keeps both her dignity and her boy friend, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking and Petting — And How Far to Go," enclosing with help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1965)

Backstage at a Barbecue

An outstanding barbecue is like a hit show. In both cases you really applaud the behind-the-scenes planning and preparations that assure success. A hit barbecue mainly depends on preparing many of the dishes before the guests arrive.

Informal buffets have proven to be popular for barbecues, both backstage and outfront. Hosts have more free time to enjoy their guests, and spend less time cooking and serving. Keep the menu simple and serve easily prepared foods. Meat, salad, one or two vegetables, fruit, crackers and dessert are ample fare.

If you cook outdoors on a charcoal grill, build a good fire before the company comes. It takes about 15 minutes to start a fire, and from 15 to 45 minutes before the coals are completely coated with gray ash—the chef's cue to start cooking.

Use smoke-seasoned salt in place of regular salt to impart a stronger charcoal flavor; rub liquid smoke into meat before cooking to increase smoke flavor, throw several cloves of garlic on fire while cooking to give an unusual charcoal smoke flavor.

What to serve with the main foil until ready to use. Casser-dish is always a problem. Fruits, vegetables and crispers are ideal for hot foods to serve with the main attraction. Keep them warm on the side of or main course accompani-ments. perform tremendous supporting roles at a barbecue, ing, so prepare well in advance. Cook them indoors or out, on refrigerator and transfer to the top of a grill, in a hand grill or barbecue table. Remember, on skewers. Broilers or fryers are delicious when grilled over a charcoal fire. On the basis of ready-to-cook weight, chickens should weigh from 1½ to 2½ pounds. Defrost if frozen, and half or quarter the chickens into convenient serving pieces.

Here are two gourmet recipes that will star at any summer cook-out:

SPICY STUFFED CHICKEN BREASTS
1 can deviled ham (2½-oz. can)
½ cup crushed thin crackers
½ teaspoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
4 chicken breasts, boned
Salt
Melted shortening

Combine first four ingredients, mixing well. Wash chicken. Place spoonful of mixture in center of each chicken breast. Roll up and tie with string or secure with skewers. Sprinkle stuffed breasts with salt and brush with melted shortening. Arrange on greased grill or squares of aluminum foil. Grill slowly, turning with tongs and basting with melted shortening until tender, about 25 to 30

BARBECUED CHICKEN

¼ teaspoon marjoram
¼ teaspoon salt
2 broiler-fryers, disjointed (2 pounds each)
½ cup light cream or evaporated milk

With blender or rolling pin, crush wafers between sheets waxed paper until finely crumbed. Stir in marjoram and salt; set aside. Dip chicken pieces into cream; roll in crumb mixture. Place chicken, skin side up in shallow baking pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for one hour or until tender.

If the gang insists that a barbecue just isn't a barbecue without hamburgers, try this unusual recipe which features a cracker 'n' spice filling.

BARBECUED STUFFED PATTIES
1 cup thin Sunshine crackers, crushed
1 egg
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons grated onion
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon Tabasco sauce
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ teaspoon oregano
1½ pounds ground beef chuck
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

With blender or with rolling pin, crush crackers into fine crumbs. Blend with remaining ingredients. Pinch edges together. Roll out between two pieces of Broil over charcoal fire. If William H. Bridge Can Help Solve Problems

BY ALFRED SHAINWOLD

Bridge is excellent training for the problems of real life. Where else can you get such constant practice in manufacturing excuses for your mistakes?

East took the queen of clubs with the ace and returned a club to the king. South led a spade to the ace and looked thoughtfully at West's queen. Then South led out the king of trumps and lost his contract. East got two spades and two aces.

South said he knew that the "book" play was to lead a low trump instead of continuing with the king of trumps. Dummy's ten would force out the jack, and South would later lead a trump from dummy to finesse through East.

South said he didn't try the safety play because he feared he couldn't handle a bad trump break. When East took the jack of spades he would return a club to make South ruff. If spades, but would be out of would then use up all of South's clubs when he got in with the

Fast Thinking
Give South credit for fast thinking—not about the hand but about the excuse. The safety play was correct in spite of the excuse.

If West had started with the doubleton Q-J, South could easily afford to let West steal a trump trick. If East really had four trumps, South's only chance was the safety play. Actually South would be quite safe. East would lead a third of club upon taking his jack of club to make South ruff. If spades, but would be out of would then use up all of South's clubs when he got in with the ace of diamonds. East would then have to return a heart or a diamond, and South would make his contract.

Daily Question
As dealer, you hold: S A K 8 5 4 H K 8 6 D J 10 4 C 5 4. What do you say?

ANSWER: Most experts pass; some bid one spade. It would be a clear-cut opening bid if you had low diamonds but A-K-J-10-x of spades or even if the jack were in hearts instead of in diamonds. A jack is worth more if it is accompanied by higher cards in the same suit.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

MISINFORMED

Dear Louise: My daughter's fiancé, an orphan, came to me for advice so I come to you. The couple will have a morning church wedding. The bride will wear a simple gown with either a short veil or lace mantilla. I have been told that if a bride wears a short veil for an informal wedding, the bridegroom wears a dark business suit. Someone else claims that if a mantilla is worn, it is not a veil and that this also calls for a business suit. Does this whole question of the bridegroom's wearing a business suit hinge on the bride's veil?

Louise Davis Answers:
No. Such thinking doesn't

Miss Davis

make sense. Whether the bridegroom wears a dark business suit or the cut-away depends on the informality or the formality of the entire wedding including its appointments and reception. The length of the veil has nothing to do with it. A lace mantilla is a head covering, so can be considered a bridal veil. It doesn't determine formality or informality either. From the tone of your letter, I have a feeling that the wedding will not be ultra formal, so the dark business suit would be in order.

Couple to Reside in Milwaukee

BEAR CREEK — Wedding promises were exchanged by Miss Maria Lupo, Wauwatosa, and Patrick Prunty, Milwaukee, at 10 a.m. Saturday. The couple repeated vows at St. Rita Catholic Church, Milwaukee. Acting as matron of honor, Mrs. Sylvester Prunty, Bear Creek, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Albert Clough and Misses Rita and Paula Lupo. Miss Rosa Lupo assisted as junior bridesmaid. The flower girl was Miss Josephine Ciano. A brother of the bridegroom, Sylvester Prunty, Bear Creek, served as best man. Hot Sausage-Tater Salad is a delightful version of an old favorite in this part of the country. It will make a wonderful dish for the Labor Day weekend, but the recipe also is one to keep on file for other occasions, too.

Hot Potato Salad

Hot Sausage — Tater Salad should unexpected company arrive. The recipe is an excellent one with a fine selection of seasonings. Here it is:

SAUSAGE-TATER SALAD

8 slices bacon, diced
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery seed
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1-3 cup vinegar
1/4 cup water
1/2 cup chopped Bermuda onion
1 cup thinly sliced celery
4 cups sliced cooked potatoes
1/2 cup salad dressing
1 pound wieners or smokies
1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Fry bacon until crisp; remove from drippings and drain pieces on absorbent paper. Set aside. Pour third-cup bacon drippings into frypan. Blend in flour, sugar, salt, celery seed and pepper. Add vinegar and water. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add onion, celery and potato slices, allow to heat through. Add salad dressing and mix carefully. Grill or heat franks, wieners, beans and flaked tuna, heat or smokies; cut crosswise in halves. Stand meat upright around edge of serving dish.

Smokies or frankfurters may be used with this version of hot potato salad. It depends upon choice or what's on hand.

Supper Casserole

Prepare packaged macaroni and cheese as label directs. Fold in drained canned green beans and flaked tuna, heat through for a hearty and easy main dish.

spoon salad in center. Sprinkle with crisps bacon and parsley over top. Recipe makes four to six servings.

Put Your Photo on a Mirror And Use It for Comparison

By CAPPY DICK

Here is an interesting fun-project for girls. It will show the slow changes that take place in a person's appearance as she grows older.

It calls for attaching a fairly large photograph of yourself to the back of a hand mirror as the girl has done in Figure 1. Figure 2 shows Jane holding up her mirror so the photo on its back is reflected in the mirror of her dresser, alongside her reflection in the latter mirror.

If the photo on the hand

mirror was made when Jane was seven years old, for example, and she is now nine years old, the differences in her appearance will immediately be apparent as she looks at the two reflections in her dresser mirror.

If the hand mirror is kept, the comparisons it will make possible will be interesting for many years to come. In fact, it can become a keepsake of much sentimental value to its owner. Thursday: How to play a straws-and-bottles music game!

Lesson in English

By W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: Do not say, "He alluded at great length to his adventures." You can't allude "at great length," since the word means to refer to something indirectly. Say, "He spoke at great length of his adventures."

Often mispronounced: Danseuse (woman ballet dancer). Pronounce dawn-suhz, accent second syllable.

Often misspelled: Loathe: observe the "e." Loathsome: no "e" following the "th."

Synonyms: Repeal (verb) abolish, revoke, rescind, cancel, annul, recall, abrogate, reverse, discontinue, make void.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Today's word: impelling (adjective): driving or urging forward. "A sense of duty was the impelling force that aroused him."

60,000,000 TIMES A DAY

The American people buy this many daily newspapers every day. Newspaper circulation

HOW DAILY NEWSPAPER CIRCULATION HAS GROWN IN THE POST-WAR PERIOD

has been climbing steadily ever since the appearance of America's first daily more than 180 years ago...and it's still growing. Last year daily newspaper circulation reached a record 60,412,266—an increase of more than 1,500,000 over 1963—the greatest single increase in almost 20 years!

More people are buying newspapers today because newspapers have more to offer. Statistically, they carry more news in greater depth as well as more advertising than ever before.

There is hardly an American home that doesn't receive at least one daily newspaper regularly. People depend on their newspapers. Could you get along without yours?

LWV Files Statement With Clerk

'Yes' Vote in Sept. 14
Referendum Backed
By Appleton Women

The Appleton League of Women Voters — pressing for a "yes" vote in the Sept. 14 referendum election — has filed a statement of organization with the city clerk's office.

Appleton voters will decide Sept. 14 whether to make the offices of clerk, attorney, treasurer and assessor appointive rather than elective.

Charter ordinances already passed by the common council specify that appointments be made on a merit system with applicants to undergo written and oral examinations prior to the mayor making a selection, which must be approved by the council before taking effect.

League officers include Barbara Hoffman, 627 E. Brewster St., president, Elizabeth Breunig, 56 Bellaire Court, vice president, Alexandra Hoecherl, 220 W. Brewster St., secretary, and Beverly Wiekart, 722 E. McKinley St., treasurer.

The nature of the organization, the statement said, is to promote active and informed participation of citizens in government. Sources of income will be contributions and dues.

Purpose of expenditures will be "to encourage citizens to vote yes on the referendum."

Sept. 12 Cutoff For Extra Benefits On Retirement

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin state and local employees who are ready for retirement have been told they should continue to work until after Sept. 12 to gain added benefits under a new law.

John A. Lawton, Madison attorney for the Wisconsin State Employees Association and other public worker groups, said Tuesday that there was a misunderstanding about the effective date of the state pension law Gov. Warren P. Knowles signed the bill into law Monday.

Lawton said the law will not go into effect until it is published and added that this will not take place earlier than Sept. 12.

Payments will not start until Jan. 1 but increased benefits will be retroactive to the date of retirement.

Soldiers Share Pagoda Of Buddhist War Lord

By HUGH A. MILLIGAN
LAP VO, South Viet Nam (AP) — A war sends the soldier to strange places and puts him among strange bedfellows.

Capt. Ed Murphy of Baltimore, Md., and Sgt. Glen Pike of Denver, Colo., live in a pagoda with a long-haired Buddhist war lord.

By day the scorching delta sun beats down on the slate roof and the heat rises in shimmering waves against the gold-leaved pillars and peacock-colored walls of the temple. At night the bats fly in and long hairy spiders drop from the ceiling.

"But it's not so bad," said Murphy, after three weeks of sleeping on the tile floor.

Two Rules
"Sgt. Pike and I have two rules. We never talk about women, and we never, never talk about food. That's even worse. He used to drive me crazy describing the big sandwich he ate before going to sleep in Colorado."

Murphy and Pike, the only two Americans at this delta outpost deep in Viet Cong territory, serve as advisers to the "Hieu"

"Battalion," one of the most bizarre and battle-ready units in all South Viet Nam. Named for their leader, Huynh Trung Hieu, the battalion last February abandoned its bandit activities and signed up to fight on the side of the government. Warlord Hieu and his men belong to a sect of Buddhists called the Hoa Hao—pronounced wah-haw. They wear their hair long. Their hatred for the Viet Cong dates back to 1947 when the Communists killed Kuyinh Phu Sao, their sainted leader, on the way to a peace palaver.

Refuse Pledge

Having no particular love for the government, whom they regard as a rival in collecting taxes and plundering the population, the Hieu bandits refused to pledge loyalty to Saigon.

Instead, in coming over to join the Americans in the fight against the Viet Cong, warlord Hieu knelt in his village square and pledged allegiance to "the great military fraternity, everywhere, in all ages." He was given the rank of major.

"They were the toughest out-

Maj. Huynh Trung Hieu kneels at a microphone at Lap Vo, South Viet Nam, as he swears allegiance to the "great military fraternity" in its fight against the Viet Cong. fit ever to go through the government training camp," said Murphy. "They only had one AWOL out of 528 men. Maj. Hieu really rules them with an iron hand. They don't drink, they don't smoke and they are one of the few Vietnamese outfits that cannot bring their wives to camp."

The Hieu Battalion is engaged in protecting an engineering company rebuilding a canal bridge on a key road. Although a Viet Cong unit is believed to be hiding out nearby, Murphy and Pike consider themselves to be in one of the safest places in Viet Nam.

"The black pajamas don't want to tangle with Maj. Hieu's men," said Pike, "and the major keeps a loving eye on his two American friends, as he call us. We can't even go out in the bushes without having two of his bodyguards with sub-machine guns standing by. Every morning I take a bath in that muddy puddle over there, five of his boys are watching to be sure I wash behind the ears."

Murphy told what it was like in protecting an engineering company rebuilding a canal bridge on a key road. Although a Viet Cong unit is believed to be hiding out nearby, Murphy and Pike consider themselves to be in one of the safest places in Viet Nam.

"Actually he's not too reformed," said the captain, plainly pleased that sin had not been fully conquered.

"He still doesn't see why he has to go to all the trouble of requisitioning supplies when he can go out and steal them. Radar fascinate him and he still hasn't got the hang of artillery support and air strikes, but his men are terrific fighters and very well disciplined. Of course, every now and then, the boys will backslide a bit and begin collecting some taxes in the neighborhood, but by and large they stick pretty much to the business of fighting the VC's."

Outagamie Won't Receive Federal Aid for Port Runway

Rep. Byrnes Learns Request for $50,000 for Project Rejected

Federal funds to construct a present strip was built without southwest-northeast runway at federal funds. Diez indicated the new runway was a necessary part of completing the county airport to handle all kinds of air traffic including commercial aviation. The planned project was for construction of another 5,200 foot runway. Byrnes learned that the total U.S. airport aid program totaled $84.5 million. There were 603 applications for funds including Outagamie County's and the requests totaled $161.7 million. Byrnes indicated that the total amount of money granted for projects was the entire total money to be appropriated for airport funding during 1966. Appleton Supv. John Dietz, (13th) said today that Outagamie County had requested about $300,000 for construction of the second runway. The project had received approval "up and down the line," he said, "and assurance of the funds had been practically guaranteed." To Ask Questions Dietz said the airport committee, of which he is a member, "will certainly be asking some questions in Washington about the lack of approval for the funds." Outagamie County's present runway is 5,200 feet and lies along southeast by northwest. The Home.

Primary Election Plan Sent to Works Board

Proposed Ordinance Referred by Council; Tavern License Increase Proposal Beaten

An ordinance calling for primary elections whenever more than two persons run for the same city office was introduced in the common council Wednesday night. Authored by Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th), who was elected to his first term last April, the resolution calls for the ordinance to become effective "on or before Nov. 26, 1965". Similar attempts to get the council to underwrite the cost of a primary have failed in past years. Thompson's resolution was formally received and referred to the board of public works. A previously submitted ordinance revision submitted by Thompson, which would increase the number of package goods store licenses in Appleton, was killed by a 13-7 vote. The maximum number of licenses now issued by the city is 14, one for every 3,500 persons. Thompson wanted to have one class A liquor license for every 2,750 persons. Attempts to open up the number of licenses have been repeatedly defeated in the council in recent months. The council also: — Elected Andrew Jimos, 611 E. Pacific St., to the Appleton Water Commission. Jimos, a member of the Outagamie County Board from the Second Ward, defeated two other applicants on the first formal ballot. — Authorized public works project contractors to keep their crews working weekends to complete sewer and street construction jobs underway. — Approved the special assessment for asphalt surfacing of Fairview Street from Prospect Avenue to Fourth Street over the strong objections of Ald. Fred Ziemann (6th) who equipping the proposed high school. However, in reviewing the school board's latest proposal, some aldermen contended several items were not deleted and many of the reductions represented deferred equipment purchases. On a key vote, the council killed a motion, 13 to 7, which would have limited the Board of Education's total appropriation for the high school to $4.5 million. Before the roll call, Ziemann's suggestion which later became a motion — coupled by observations from Alds. Harold Hanne-mann (10th) and Alvin E. Tews (5th) that scrapping the plans now and delaying construction for a year would cost the city $750,000 in the end — played a role in defeating the $4.5 million proposal. Some aldermen who voted against setting the flat $4.5 million figure commented that they felt the school board's latest $5.3 request was still unrealistic and could be trimmed more without having to start from scratch. $5 Million Bond Issue Should the council decide eventually to approve construction contracts, some observers have indicated that a resolution to float a bond issue in excess of $5 million would not get the required three-fourths majority. Ald. Roy Pointer (14th) said the situation could conceivably develop that the contracts are approved but the bond issue not, causing further delay. The special school evaluation panel, to be selected by the council's school advisory committee and Board of Education, will consist of three citizen members and a representative from the school board, council and Department of Public Works. It will be charged with reviewing the school board's latest proposition and making

Appointees Have Been Top Qualified, Mayor Tells Council

Mitchell Says Policy to Continue; Asks for Procedural Ordinance

Mayor Clarence Mitchell told the Appleton Council Wednesday night he has appointed best qualified persons to municipal positions in the past and would continue to do so in the future. Mitchell gave his full endorsement to a "yes" vote on the Sept. 14 referendum which would make the administrative positions of clerk, city attorney, treasurer and assessor appointive rather than elective. Declaring he has long had an appointive policy which kept patronage and politics out of his administration, Mitchell said to avoid any doubt or confusion on how he would proceed under terms of the charter ordinances, he was requesting his step-by-step procedure be laid out in regular ordinance form. Asks For Adoption Mitchell asked the council's welfare-ordinance committee to expedite preparation and adoption of the detailed procedure: "1. The position is advertised publicly in newspapers and other media to reach as many interested, qualified people as possible. "2. The applicant fills out an application form prepared by the Bureau of Personnel, State Department of Administration. "3. The filled out application forms are submitted to Madison for evaluation and screening by the above bureau. "4. The Bureau of Personnel, State Department of Administration, then notifies the candidates of the date and place of a written examination. "5. Scoring and ranking of the candidates on the basis of the above examination is done in Madison and a certified list of candidates in order of rank, based on the test score, is submitted to me. "6. I then appoint an interviewing board consisting generally of at least three local

Career System Has Developed For 11 Administrative Posts

ers serve two-year terms subject to nomination by the mayor and confirmation by the city council. While this leaves the way open for personality or political changes each two years, there have been no replacements other than after retirement since the procedure was adopted in 1947. In addition, the procedure has been used to "promote" assistants following retirement of department heads. Assessor Richard O'Connor and Comptroller Rudy Reinhard were appointed from assistant positions in their offices to department heads. 11 Posts The procedure applies to the assessor, city attorney, city clerk, treasurer, director of public works, and superintendent of inspectors, who are city hall department heads. In addition, the procedure still applies to the administrative jobs of plumbing inspector, electrical inspector, air pollution inspector, poundmaster, and weed commissioner which were appointive jobs in the 1920's. Green Bay had a three-man commission form of government from 1916 to 1927. In 1927, the form was changed to a commission of aldermen elected in 20 wards and a mayor. The formal change to mayor-aldermanic government came in 1953. As a remnant of commission government, department heads and some administrative officers formerly were elected each April by the city council for terms of only one year. The

Study Committee Created To Review Design, Reach Compromise on School

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer Appleton's Common Council stood firm Wednesday night, refusing to approve a scaled-down figure of $5.3 million for a new senior high school. The previous estimated cost was $5.6 million. In an attempt to arrive at a compromise figure, the council authorized creation of a special six-member study committee to review the entire school construction project and report back in two weeks. The action meant another delay in the start of the new Appleton East High School which public School officials hope to have in operation by September, 1966. The new school project, not on the council's regular agenda, was given priority at a committee of the whole session following the regular meeting at city hall. Lucey Blasts Appointment

Calls State Choice For Insurance Head 'Anti-Labor' Move

BY JAMES BARTELT Press-Gazette Staff Writer

The appointment of Marinette Assemblyman Robert Haase as state insurance commissioner was blasted by Lt. Gov. Patrick Lucey Wednesday night as an act of "the most anti-labor administration to serve in Madison since the 1930s."

Lucey delivered the criticism at a meeting of the International Association of Machinists, Charles Manson, the replaced commissioner. "I was liberal was concerned about the consumer, so he had to go," said Lucey.

Manson was replaced by an assemblyman who does not have a good labor record or a good consumers record and knows nothing about the insurance business and who already has announced he would not run for re-election because he made such a miserable showing in running for judge he knew he could not be re-elected," Lucey said.

Haase ran in the primary for a Circuit Court judgeship last March.

Acts Like Candidate Lucey still has yet to become a formal candidate for governor, but he spent Wednesday night and part of today in Green Bay doing what candidates do.

This included shaking hands at a paper mill plant gates this morning. In other appearances, Lucey: Told a West Side Kiwanis Club meeting that the proposals included shaking hands at a paper mill plant gates this morning.

Criticizes Mansion Project

Joined growing Democratic criticism over the $248,000 appropriation to remodel the governor's mansion in remarks prepared for a noon meeting of Brown County Democrats.

Lucey said at the union meeting that the Haase appointment followed the pattern of the Knowles administration which included naming Joseph Fagan as chairman of the industrial commission. As a chamber of commerce lobbyist, said Lucey, Fagan once called for a state right to work law.

Salt on Highways

State Keeps Watch on Pollution Potential

MADISON — The State Commission on Wildlife Pollution is keeping a vigilant eye on the potential hazards of the application of huge amounts of chlorides to the highways for ice prevention and control, but thus far it has found no cause for public alarm.

That is the conclusion of a detailed report summarizing observations on the use of chlorides on road surfaces. In some roads, or salts, published here instances such chemicals may be hazardous in drinking water. The pollution agency representative said that a more direct problem resulting from the use of chlorides may flow from the use of additives that are now being sold to prevent the caking of the chlorides used less and the concentrations by highway maintenance work found in receiving waters. Last year the application far have been below those on state trunk highways alone considered as having an adverse reached 160,000 tons or the effect on aquatic life or of equivalent of 80 pounds per interfering with other water residents of Wisconsin. The figure did not include the huge consumption on city, county and well pollution has been traced to other local government roads.

Small Cut in Appropriations For U. S. Aid

$3,285,000,000 Measure Approved By House Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $3,285,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill emerged today from the House Appropriations Committee with the smallest cut in the aid program's 18 year history.

The $75 million trimmed by the committee from the $3.36-billion program authorized by Congress only last week compared with the previous low of $198 million cut from the 1952 program. Last week's bill fixed the limit of new financing for the present fiscal year at a level of about $96 million below what President Johnson requested.

In addition to financing the foreign aid program, the money bill also would provide funds for several other activities, including the Peace Corps, boosting its over-all total of $4,001,453,000.

Over-All Total
This over-all total is up $91.9 million from figures for the fiscal year just ended, and the $3,285,000,000 amount for foreign aid is up $35 million.

Some Republican committee members were dissatisfied with the committee's action and called for a review of the entire program.

Largest allotment in the bill was $1.7 billion for direct military assistance to provide defense equipment and training for nations resisting Communist encroachment. This is the amount the President requested and is $115 million more than was appropriated last year. The money is earmarked for 54 nations.

One Dead, Eight Hospitalized With Bubonic Plague

GALLUP, N.M. (AP) — Eight persons were hospitalized and numerous others were under observation today as a result of possible contact with a western New Mexico Navajo Indian boy who died Friday from bubonic plague.

The U.S. Communicable Disease center at San Francisco, Calif., confirmed the plague as causing the death of Larry Ray Jim, 13.

Four other cases, also among Navajo Indian children, were confirmed earlier. The children have recovered or are on the way to recovery.

Personnel of the U.S. Public Health Service hospital in Gallup where the boy died, and neighbors also have been contacted by health officials about possible exposure to the plague.

Prairie dogs are believed the principal carriers of plague-bearing fleas.

'Seriously Escalated'

India-Pakistan Fight Rages Into Second Day

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A Pakistani attack spearheaded by tanks penetrated five miles inside Indian positions in southwest Kashmir as fighting raged on for a second consecutive day, India announced today.

Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan told Parliament a massive attack by at least 3,000 Pakistani troops and 70 tanks across the international frontier had "seriously escalated" the fighting, and that the situation was still "developing."

Chavan claimed 13 tanks were destroyed.

Lost 4 Planes
He acknowledged India lost four of its planes that attacked the tanks — two planes missing and two damaged.

It appeared that despite an Indian counterattack at dawn today, Pakistani tanks were able to burst through the Indian lines and roam about in southwest Kashmir's flatlands.

No new major action was reported in three salient the Indian

22 Viet Cong Die In Ground Action

Government Losses Light in Fighting North of Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Vietnamese troops launched an operation 320 miles northeast of Saigon today and claimed 22 Viet Cong killed, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

The operation, 15 miles south of Quang Ngai, continued into the night. Government losses were described as light. Five Viet Cong were reported captured and 46 suspects detained.

No major activity was reported elsewhere on the ground. However, a spokesman said Air Force B52 bombers pounded a suspected Communist position only 20 miles from Saigon in the closest strike yet to the capital by Strategic Air Command planes.

Rattled Windows
The explosions from the B52 bombs rattled windows in Saigon.

Other U.S. and Vietnamese planes continued heavy air strikes against suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam.

Newsmen were told U.S. planes flew more sorties in South Viet Nam in August than in any single previous month of the war. The spokesman said pilots made 3,767 sorties — an average of 121 a day — compared with 3,531 in July, damaging or destroying nearly 8,000 structures.

There was no estimate on the number of Viet Cong killed in the strikes.

120 Sorties
In the 24-hour period ending Thursday, U.S. and Vietnamese pilots made 120 sorties and reported they destroyed or damaged 540 enemy structures.

Two U.S. Air Force B57 Canards were reported to have destroyed 120 structures.

Speaker Hukam Singh of the lower house of Parliament refused to let members ask Chavan questions, saying that it was not possible when there is "actual war between us and Pakistan."

Counter Measures
Chavan said India was responding to Pakistan's "escalation" with all necessary "counter measures" and that "we have to take an over-all view of defense."

That was an obvious reference to other sectors on India's long and tense frontier with Pakistan.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was reliably reported to have said in a briefing for Indian political leaders that India expects "very big clashes," and that India's strategy must be considered in a "much wider context."

Shastri warned right-wing Hindu leaders not to let communal rioting against the nation's Moslem minority get out of hand "or then we'll have to fight on two fronts."

As the conflict raged on into the second day, a defense ministry spokesman said Pakistani tanks and Indian planes were still being used, but it was too early to say who was winning.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of the Boston Diocese, administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church to four young persons trapped

Bribe Charge Draws Congressional Fire

Johnson Pushing Progress Noted in Steel Pact Dispute

Johnson Pushing Progress Noted in Steel Pact Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slight progress was reported today in emergency White House steel negotiations, with President Johnson pushing the talks toward a critical phase.

A source in the negotiations said the steel industry had raised its money offer "a little," but that the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers Union refused to budge from its last demand.

The last publicly reported industry offer was a 40.6 cent hourly increase in wages and fringe benefits over three years. The last union demand was reportedly 49.8 cents.

Johnson has said both sides must make concessions to reach a settlement.

No Denial
Union President L. W. Abel did not deny the reported industry offer to raise the ante in the multimillion dollar labor bargaining, but said: "If they have, they haven't told us about it."

The talks resume at 9:30 a.m. in the fourth day since Johnson called the negotiations here from Pittsburgh in an effort to avert a strike that would cripple about 60 per cent of the nation's steel production.

The White House appeared hoping for a major break in the talks well in advance of next Thursday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline. Johnson won an eight-day strike postponement Monday night.

"Steel negotiations have entered the stage of hard and tough bargaining," said Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary.

Boost Unknown
There was no word on the amount the industry reportedly boosted its previous offer.

The approximately 450,000 basic steelworkers now earn $4.40 an hour in wages and fringe benefits.

The reported industry hike in its offer was in addition to another slight boost which sources said the 10 major steel companies had made before leaving Pittsburgh.

An informed source said the government estimated the two sides were 12 cents apart for a three-year contract when Johnson called the talks to the White House.

Each cent of added labor costs is estimated to total some $10 million a year.

'Betsy' Still May Hit Florida
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy's winds built up to dangerous 125-mile rate today but a very gradual northward swing in its forward movement lessened the threat to heavily populated south Florida.

"We're not quite ready yet to take south Florida off the hook," said Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, "but the threat certainly has decreased. The chance that it will affect this area is becoming rather remote."

Every six hours, Dunn said, the storm has swung "a degree or two more to the north" and this is expected to continue.

'Dummy' Corporations Okay
Gov. Knowles' 'Task Force' Urges Full Faith and Credit State Bonds

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON—A committee of finance experts today urged the state government to move for the authorization of full faith and credit state bonds through a constitutional amendment, but reported to Gov. Warren P. Knowles that a substitute borrowing method through so-called "dummy corporations" has been used efficiently and wisely.

The task force headed by Robert Dineen, president of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., is one of a series of conferences by Dineen, John F. Bauman of the Marine National Exchange Bank of Milwaukee, Herman H. Peter, son of the Marshall and Ilsley Bank of Milwaukee, and John F. Konrad of Northwestern Mutual.

It echoes many other proposals of critics of the quasi-public decade. A reduction in interest charges of one-tenth of 1 per cent through the authorization of full faith and credit state bonds could save at least $250,000 a year for state taxpayers, and up to $10 million ultimately, the governor was told.

News Conference
The analysis of state capital financing methods and recommendations for improvement were made public here at a news conference by Dineen, John F. Bauman of the Marine National Exchange Bank of Milwaukee, Herman H. Peter, son of the Marshall and Ilsley Bank of Milwaukee, and John F. Konrad of Northwestern Mutual.

Although there has been widespread academic support for the idea of amending the state constitution, the plan has aroused

CIA, State Department to be Called by Zablocki Group Due to Singapore Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee today called on the State Department and Central Intelligence Agency to explain why a formal denial of a $3-million bribery incident that took place in Singapore in 1960 backfired to the embarrassment of the U.S. government.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East, said closed hearings will be held after the Labor Day recess to obtain an explanation from responsible officials on bribery allegations.

Released Tuesday
State Department officials were taken aback Tuesday when Lee released a letter from Secretary of State Dean Rusk which apologized for improper activities by American agents and promised disciplinary action.

Zablocki said it was "most unfortunate" that the State Department had issued a formal denial of the bribery charge on Tuesday and then had itself reversed on Wednesday.

"It is not too difficult to look back to what action Prime Minister Lee was talking about," Zablocki said. He refused to elaborate.

State Department officials insisted that only Rusk and the Central Intelligence Agency knew of the letter to Lee. Zablocki indicated that Congress had been filled in on the incident when it occurred toward the close of the Eisenhower administration.

Joint Committee
Zablocki said the case indicates a need for a joint congressional committee composed of the chairmen of the Armed

11 Dead as Floods Swell Near Rome

ROME (AP) — Rain beat down on Italy again today as rescue teams used amphibious vehicles and helicopters to aid flood victims north of Rome. Eleven persons were dead, with dozens injured.

The storms spread over most of Italy, and Sardinia. The hardest hit area extended from Rome to Orvieto, about 80 miles north of the capital.

A sudden flood between the two cities on the high-speed superhighway swept 20 autos off the road.

Police said today they had found three bodies and considered a missing child dead. Fifteen persons were injured in the highway flooding.

Traffic accidents resulted in four other fatalities on the highway. A landslide also hit the highway but apparently did not strike any cars.

Three other persons died in the Rome area, where almost uninterrupted day-long rains left flood waters nine feet deep in the city's northern suburbs.

Dr. Schweitzer Gravely Ill in Jungle Hospital

Sketchy Reports Heard in Capital Of African Nation

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer, 90, lies gravely ill in his jungle hospital, in which he has treated thousands of Africans.

The old doctor, whose name is legend throughout the world, was stricken by fatigue Sunday and has not left his bed since.

Reports reaching the capital today from the 100-mile distant jungle hospital were sketchy. Close associates refused to say anything or speculate on Dr. Schweitzer's chances of recovery.

"He is ill, very ill. We are all praying," a member of the staff told an acquaintance over the telephone linking the island of Lambarene with the capital.

No Telephone
The hospital itself, located across the muddy Ogooue River from Lambarene Island, has no telephone. Dr. Schweitzer refused to install one.

"Telephone!" he said a day before his 90th birthday last January. "That's all we need. It would poison our lives. We can take care of any situation here."

Reports of his illness trickled from the hospital to Lambarene by staff members traveling across the river in dugout canoes.

The sky over that part of Gabon was cloudy and occasional tropical rain pelted the brown river and lush greenery around it. The short rainy season began just before the doctor was stricken.

A topflight team of doctors was on the alert at the hospital, where, for the past six months, Swiss Dr. Walter Munz, 32, has been in charge. Dr. Munz arrived with an idea of gradually

Home Rule Drive Fails in House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drive to bring the District of Columbia "home rule" bill to the House floor Sept. 13 has failed despite persistent appeals from President Johnson.

But the measure still can be wrenched from the district committee before Congress adjourns and Johnson still believes it will be passed this year, Bill D. Moyers, White House press secretary said Wednesday.

The petition to discharge the committee has 185 signatures. To take effect at least 218 members, a majority of the House, must sign.

Brother Shot Down

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Dawson, who searched the jungles of South Viet Nam in vain for 10 months to find his brother dead or alive, returned home to a dry-eyed reunion, saying he just wants "to go back to work to support my family."

Dawson, 28, was met at the airport Wednesday night by his wife, Jeanne, 27. They had only a moment's privacy before facing newsmen. They obliged cameramen with a long kiss.

Dawson, skipper of an oil survey ship before he left for Asia late last year, said he spent $3,000 in the search, but failed to find his brother, Army Lt. Daniel Dawson, 27, a spotter plane pilot who disappeared over enemy territory last Nov. 6.

Held 4 Months
During his search, Dawson was held for four months in a Viet Cong prison camp, was stricken with malaria, then finally released after the Communists told him his brother was dead.

"I finally convinced them that my one wish was to have my brother's remains with me when I left. It was hell, but it was worthwhile. My brother would have done the same thing for me, and I would do it again," Dawson said.

His wife agreed: "I feel it was worthwhile,—but added: "I'm glad that he is home."

"When I left home," Dawson told newsmen, "I insured myself for $10,000, figuring that I would keep my wife going until she got another husband. I didn't figure I'd be gone this long. I thought I'd be gone a couple of months and that that wouldn't be much out of our lives."

Unfinished Story
On his failure to return with his brother's remains, Dawson said: "I don't consider that this is a finished story. When the war is over, I've got to go back, and they (the guerrillas) will take me to my brother's grave. "In the meantime, I've got to go back to work to support my family."

Asked if he believes his brother dead, Dawson replied: "The only thing I have is the assurance of high level officers of the 'Liberation Front' that Danny is dead. I believe that if he had been alive, they'd have photographed us together and made a big propaganda thing of it."

He was asked if his use of the term liberation front reflected any favoritism for the Viet Cong, and he said: "Out of their range, they're the Viet Cong to me. In their range, I call them the Liberation Front."

Sealab Officials Eye Approach of Hurricane

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Of-year because of rough seas officials of Sealab 2 are keeping a close watch today on a hurricane moving up the coast of Baja California.

The storm was about 450 miles southeast of La Jolla on Wednesday, but officials believe it won't cause trouble for the underwater living experiment.

The Weather Bureau said the storm, packing winds of up to 78 miles an hour, probably will not reach Southern California.

They said the hurricane, Emily, was closer than any other potentially hazardous storm in many years.

Of primary concern was the influence a heavy storm might have on the Berkone, the support ship moored over the Sealab capsule 1,000 feet from shore.

Disrupt Communications

Communications, power and other support facilities for the Sealab would be disrupted if a storm pushed the Berkone away from the project site, and the divers would have to be brought to the surface.

Ten aquanauts are spending 15 days on the bottom at a depth of 205 feet in the test of underwater endurance. Their home is the 12x58-foot capsule.

berras, supported by another aircraft, bombed the Hon Mat Island radar site today. 20 miles northeast of Vinh in the Gulf of Tonkin, the spokesman said. The aircraft dropped five tons of bombs on the target, but the weather and darkness prevented an accurate assessment of damage.

All planes returned safely and no aircraft fire was encountered, the spokesman said.

Other Developments

In other developments, news men were given these details of scattered action on the ground: —U.S. Army elements of Task Force Alpha killed seven Viet Cong Wednesday near Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon, as the guerrillas were crossing a river in a 15-man patrol. American losses were termed light.

Task Force Alpha is the new U.S. Army command created last month to control all U.S. ground combat forces in the 2nd and 3rd Corps areas. Its headquarters is in Nha Trang, 210 miles northeast of the capital.

—A Popular Force platoon ambushed five Viet Cong 65 miles northwest of Saigon near Tay Ninh. Vietnamese casualties were light.

—Three Viet Cong were killed and 15 suspects detained in a government operation 25 miles south of Chu Lai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon. No Vietnamese casualties were reported.

B52 Role

The Guam-based B52s have stepped up their activity in recent weeks with indications this role will be further increased. B52s made their first double-header attack of the war Tuesday, hitting targets 30 miles north and 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

In other air activity, the second U.S. helicopter to crash in two days went down 260 miles northeast of Saigon, injuring the four American crewmen aboard.

Military authorities said the crash occurred near An Khe, which is on Route 19 between Qui Nhon and Pleiku. The four men were evacuated to a field hospital at Nha Trang. Two were reported in serious condition.

Toy Raid

Reliable sources in Saigon said the United States is considering an air raid on North Viet Nam with toys.

An official U.S. spokesman declined comment but acknowledged that one experimental toy drop was made over North Viet Nam last spring.

A toy drop, sources said, would be used as a psychological weapon to show Communist Vietnamese enjoy a higher standard of living.

Janitor Becomes Teacher, Takes Cut in Pay

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — At a $350 annual cut in pay, Clarence Bradshaw, 33, is giving up his job as a school janitor to become a school teacher.

Bradshaw will begin teaching sixth grade at Highland Park Elementary School next week for $5,650 a year. He has been working as a custodian for $6,000 a year while attending night classes at Akron University. He received his degree in elementary education last June.

Bradshaw worked as a school janitor for nine years after flunking out of Akron U. in 1956. In 1960, he decided to have another go at a bachelor's degree.

Eastern Banker Rides To Top Spot in Nevada

By BILL STALL

RENO, Nev. (AP) — As a Philadelphia banker, Stuart B. Webb used to spend his leisure hours fox hunting.

He's found no fox hunting since moving to Nevada to be president of the state's second largest bank.

"But I've been on horseback, looking at our cattle. We lend money on cattle here — something unusual for the East."

Head of 13 Branches

Webb, 40, already has filled a heart's desire by becoming top officer of the Nevada Bank of Commerce, with 13 branches throughout the state and assets of $95.6 million.

Webb was born, reared and educated in the East. He moved to Reno in April as administrative vice president and became president July 29.

Why did he come?

After Dream

"I was looking for a situation that would lead to a top spot in the banking business. This one came to my attention. So I seized it. It's always been my heart's desire to be a bank president."

Webb did have some qualms about moving from the old, established eastern financial world to Nevada, the only state with casino gambling.

"I have been most agreeably surprised with the inside look that I've had of the financial structure of gambling casinos. They are well set up and very well managed."

Casino Finances

Casinos reported gross winnings of more than $290 million during 1964.

Casinos have an excellent cash flow, Webb says. "Their business is cash. Very little credit is involved in it. Ready, short-term credit depends on the cash-flow analysis and this comes up quickly."

Services, Foreign Affairs and Appropriations Committees of the Senate and House to look into CIA activities.

Administration authorities said U.S. Ambassador James D. Bell in Kuala Lumpur will meet soon with the late Singapore prime minister to discuss problems between the two countries. Consideration also is being given to naming an ambassador to the newly independent island state.

While many officials expressed surprise at the vehemence of Lee's broadside, there is a growing feeling here that Lee is demonstrating he is a member of the Asian-African club, ready to pursue a militantly independent neutral course.

Better Position

Official sources here think Lee is trying to improve his position internally in the face of strong opposition from the Barisan Socialist party.

A third view is that Lee has been under heavy strains since the separation of Singapore from the Malaysia Federation last month and has also been worried by the serious illness of his wife.

Lee sought the services of a New York specialist in gynecology. When the specialist was unable to fly to Singapore because of a prior speaking engagement in Geneva, the State Department arranged for another specialist to go to Singapore, but Lee angrily refused the offer as "impudent."

A city curfew from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. remained in effect. Liquor and beer sales were halted. Although Mississippi is a dry state, liquor sales are permitted with the state collecting a black market tax on sales.

Included in the Negro demands was one calling on the city to denounce the Ku Klux Klan. Others called for desegregation of public facilities, equal employment opportunities, and police escorts for Negro funerals.

Ghana President Takes Over Rule of Army

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — President Kwame Nkrumah has taken direct command of Ghana's army following widespread rumors that some generals wanted to depose him.

Sources said two generals, ousted from their posts and retired in a surprise move last month, suggested Ghana would be better off without Nkrumah. There was no indication, however, the generals actually plotted against the Ghanaian president.

Nkrumah took over command of the army Tuesday in a ceremony at Accra's Burmayh Camp.

Canine Care Creates Chaos In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital has another dogged problem: It needs a new dog pound.

And, like most things in Washington, it's not so simple. The old pound is situated across the street from a multimillion, ultra-modern motel on the city's southwest side. Motel officials want it removed immediately. They say it was supposed to be moved before the motel was opened three years ago.

But district officials say Congress has allotted them only $130,000 for the new facility and, thus far, no contractor has been willing to build a new pound for that money.

John King Jr., poundmaster, said Wednesday that the new pound should include air conditioning facilities for 150 dogs and ceramic tile or concrete floors.

"Piped in music would be all right," he said, "but it's not necessary."

District officials have made two attempts to get a satisfactory bid for construction of the new pound. A third attempt will be made Sept. 14.

Out-of-Court Compromise for Schlitz Favored

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The federal judge conducting the trial of the U.S. Government's anti-trust suit against the Schlitz Brewing Co., said Wednesday he prefers that the two parties reach an out-of-court compromise.

U.S. Dist. Judge Stanley A. Weigel, in a statement entered into the court record at Wednesday's session in the third week of the trial, said:

"I think the testimony in this case to the effect that this litigation and all the talk it has generated has been hurtful to general brewing is true. It is uneconomical."

He said the competitive position of General Brewing Corp. of San Francisco — makers of Lucy Lager — can better be preserved by "disposing of this case outside of this courtroom and outside of the courtrooms higher than this one."

The judge said there appeared to be only a narrow gap between the government and Schlitz and General Brewing. To bridge that gap would take only "reasonable compromise," he said.

Given 1 Year Probation For Battery

Roy Whiteley, 18, 1404 N. McDonald St., was placed on probation one year to the state department of public welfare Tuesday. He appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on a charge of battery.

Gary Schabo, 17, 1419 N. Ulman St., involved with Whiteley in the beating of a 14-year-old hitchhiker last week, pleaded guilty to battery and to a second charge of robbery. He appeared Tuesday and the matter was continued for sentencing Friday. He is being held without bond in the Outagamie County jail. Schabo is also charged with robbery of three youths on the E. College Avenue bridge.

Frank Bowers, 17, 1408 N. Wayne St., charged with Schabo in the robbery, requested a preliminary hearing on the charge. Bond was set at $1,000 and the hearing date was set for Thursday.

Schabo and Bowers were waived from juvenile court supervision after their arrest by Appleton police following investigation of the beating and robbery.

1,500 Working in Cucumber Harvest

Other Waushara Crop Activities Employing 1,200, WSES Reports

WAUTOMA — Approximately 1,500 workers were associated with cucumber harvesting in Waushara County at the end of August, the Wisconsin State Employment Service Office, said today.

About 1,200 other laborers are being used in harvesting other crops, with 500 out-of-state workers in various harvesting activities and 700 local and intrastate workers employed in mixed vegetable harvesting, operating field machinery and warehouse duties.

Cool weather has slowed down the growth of cucumbers so that the interim between pickings is five to six days.

Peak Rate

Other truck harvest operations are progressing at a peak rate, employment officials said. Good quality head lettuce is being harvested and the work is expected to last another three weeks.

Harvesting of green and wax beans should last two more weeks unless halted by frost.

Harvesting of potatoes has reached high gear and should continue through October. Officials said 750 workers are needed for field and warehouse duties in the potato harvest.

Harvesting of sweet corn for food processing is one-third complete.

Eastern Part

Harvesting of celery in the eastern part of Waushara County is expected to start around Labor Day.

Cutting and shipping of Christmas trees will begin within another month, according to employment officials, who say local and out-of-state male workers will be needed until mid-December.

Out-of-state employment service personnel and company representatives are presently at the Wautoma employment branch office recruiting workers.

LBJ Nominates R. M. Hartsworm King Postmaster

KING — Romber M. Hartsworm has been nominated by President Lyndon B. Johnson for the postmastership of the King Post Office. Senate confirmation is needed to make the appointment final.

Hartsworm was named acting postmaster March 31 of this year. He replaced Mrs. Alice Wyman who had been clerk in charge of the post office since the resignation of James LaSage last year.

A resident of King, Hartsworm, 38, was employed at the Grand Army Home for Veterans before becoming acting postmaster.

Provided Chance

That fact, coupled with the LaFollette opinion about the applicability of the state retirement act under the circumstances, apparently gave Knowles the opportunity to name a man of his own choice to one of the major regulatory offices in the state government.

Haase's appointment had been rumored in political circles for several weeks. The Democratic Party Organization has already indicated it is prepared to make an issue of the incident and to claim that the Republicans are trying to weaken insurance regulation.

Fate Uncertain for Kimball Building

Historic Pine River Store Gets Fresh Start

PINE RIVER — The historic Kimball Store building here is being refurbished by a new owner, and area residents are wondering what lies ahead for this building with a long past.

Mrs. Kathleen Kimball Davis recently purchased the store. She is a descendant of Nathan Kimball, a distant relative of Alanson Melien Kimball, businessman for whom the building was named.

Mrs. Davis is the dean of girls of Kaukauna High School, lives in Appleton and is a former resident of this community.

Cleaned and Polished

Since she has purchased the building the old fashioned shelves that line three of the walls have been cleaned and polished, new screens have been put in the double front doors, and painting has been done.

Plans call for the floor to be sanded. The freight hand-operated elevator which formerly transferred items from the basement and the second floor still works.

Mrs. Davis said she will announce at a later date what she plans to do with the building.

Bought from Heirs

She bought the structure from Dr. Lloyd Williams, Appleton, and two other heirs of the A. M. Kimball family.

A. M. Kimball was born in Maine, came here in 1856 and remained in the general store business. He was engaged in a "grocery and confectionary" business. They sold the land to A. M. Kimball March 18, 1870.

Site of Dances

He moved a store he had been operating in another location in Pine River. In 1898 he moved a Majorie Kimball Booth and had Edgar N. Kimball, both of Pine River, and three great-grandchildren.

ball Store building to its present size.

Families before the turn of the century used to spend the entire day trading in Pine River. Furniture was displayed on the second floor, and at one time dances were held there.

The first floor contained a typical country store and in later years farm machinery were housed in the basement.

The only living relatives of A. M. Kimball are a great-granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Thiesen, Oshkosh, and four great-grandchildren.

Descendants of Nathan Kimball include a daughter, Mrs. Fannie Olson, Marinette; three grandchildren, Mrs. Davis, and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. LaFollette on Secrecy

It is an ironic coincidence that the state attorney general has ruled, even as the legislature was enacting a new law strengthening the statute prohibiting secrecy in Wisconsin governmental affairs, that preliminary negotiations in governmental labor relations are not subject to the law which is intended to protect the public's right to know.

Mr. LaFollette's opinion covering "preliminary negotiations" is somewhat obscure. It is possible that it will be elaborated. But it is subject to the interpretation that it covers all bargaining preceding the presentation of a formal proposal to a local legislative body.

We don't propose to challenge Mr. LaFollette's abilities as a lawyer, or his right to construe the meaning of legislation according to his considered opinion and that of his professional staff. Yet we are reminded of the commonplace observation that one lawyer's opinion is probably as good as another's, in the absence of a court adjudication of a disputed point. The important difference here is that local governmental bodies will be inclined to rely upon this official interpretation by the state government's chief legal counsel. If they do so, and should the opinion be sustained in a court test that is probably inevitable, the legislature should hasten to make the law clear and explicit.

We can readily understand that such an interpretation will be more convenient and comfortable for aldermen and other elected officials, as well as the bargaining representatives of employees who may negotiate with them. But the price of such convenience and comfort will be the emasculation of what we had assumed, and had been told, was the basic principle involved in the celebrated Wisconsin anti-secrecy law. That was to assure the people supporting government the most complete understanding of what their public agencies are doing, and how, and why.

As the Milwaukee Journal so aptly and acridly observed.

"Under this interpretation the public could be kept in the dark throughout the most crucial deliberating stages of a given labor contract, only to be handed the bill after everything had been neatly—but secretly—agreed to. It might be argued that such a contract would be publicly dissected after the governing body received it. However, there is no assurance whatsoever that it would get the kind of searching public inquiry it deserved."

It is unfortunate that the new attorney general, who generally represents a liberal posture, is the author of an opinion diluting one of the most significant Wisconsin legislative enactments of recent times. We regret that he did not consult one of his predecessors, John W. Reynolds, who also published some opinions construing the statute which upheld its reasonably evident intent.

The College Avenue Parking Decision

Discussions have been going on for some 18 months now as to whether parallel parking will replace the present angle system on College Avenue. Many persons may have assumed that since the rebuilding of the city's main business street is still almost two years away, there is no need for making a decision now.

Exactly the opposite is true. The fact that the decision has not been made has already caused postponement of the College Avenue project from 1966 to 1967.

The lack of a decision on what type of parking will be ordered for College Avenue is holding up work on the comprehensive plan for the City of Appleton, and specifically on the plan for development of the downtown business section.

The arguments pro and con parallel versus angle parking are well defined and relatively simple. Parallel parking allows much freer movement of traffic and it is much safer from the accident standpoint. Angle parking allows more cars to be parked on the street. Some drivers, notably women, believe it is easier to get in and out of angle stalls than the parallel type, but in other cities which have abandoned angle parking drivers quickly learn how to negotiate parallel stalls.

The Basic Cause of Racial Disorders

A report prepared for President Johnson last spring by a committee on civil rights brings out a major problem concerning Negroes which was discussed in these columns some weeks ago.

The report has not yet been officially released but has been widely quoted. Titled The Negro Family—The Case for National Action, it goes into detail about the breakdown in Negro family life, the causes over the years and the results which have led directly to the violence and chaos of the riots in Negro ghettos and what often seems like senseless destruction.

"Probably no single fact of Negro American life is so little understood by whites" as this breakdown in family life, says the report. "It flows from the long years of degradation and discrimination which have attacked his dignity and assaulted his ability to provide for his family." The years of slavery and then of forcing the Negro man especially to "keep his place" are the major reasons. "The very essence of the male animal from the bantam rooster to the four star general is to strut. But, historically, the instincts of the American Negro male have been suppressed. Indeed, in 19th Century America, a particular type of exaggerated male boastfulness became almost a national style. Not for the Negro male. The 'sassy nigger' was lynched."

The result, according to the report is that "the Negro community has been forced into a matriarchal structure which, because it is so out of line with the rest of American society, seriously retards the progress of the group as a whole, and imposes a crushing burden on the Negro male and in consequence upon a great many Negro women as well."

Statistics have shown the high percentage of Negro families without a father in the home, of illegitimacy and temporary common-law marriages. Segregationists charge that these are caused because the Negro is a lower type of human being, given to free play of his lusts and lacking responsibility. But this has been generally opposed by anthropologists. As the civil rights report indicates, a society which forces any person to take a lower role in society ends up with exactly that sort of person. Certainly the years of discrimination have been harder on the Negro man than woman since it is among the mores of our society that the man is the provider and the authority and some believe that women naturally play a more passive role. The Negro man, bowing his head and stepping off the sidewalk to the white, certainly would have a difficult time establishing and maintaining his authority at home especially if his wages were low and his possibilities for advancement almost nonexistent. It would be hard for children to take seriously the orders of an Uncle Tom.

The major problem of course is what to do about it all, what roles private agencies and government can take to restore dignity to the Negro and security and existence to the family. President Johnson has proposed a number of government remedies emphasizing employment, youth training programs, child care centers and back to school efforts. But beyond this, somehow the "image" of the Negro man must be changed for the next generation. The teen-age hoodlums must somehow come to respect authority, whether white or black. The importance of the family as a basic unit for order in our society must be restored among Negroes.

Obviously something that took almost two centuries to develop cannot be reversed overnight. The violence of Negro youth is an effort to establish dominance and it will take some time to eradicate the impulse. Americans are going to pay for many years for the careless discrimination against other human beings.

Tomato Declared Healthful Food

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Sept. 23, 1865.

A good medical authority ascribes to the tomato the following very important medical qualities:

1st. That the tomato is one of the most powerful aperients of the liver and other organs of the body; where calomel is indicated, it is one of the most effective and least harmful medical agents known to the profession.

2nd. That a chemical extract will be obtained from it that will supersede the use of calomel in the cure of disease.

3rd. That he has successfully treated diarrhea with this article alone.

4th. That when used as an article of diet, it is almost sovereign for dyspepsia and indigestion.

International Monetary System Is Sound But Needs Improvement

BY MAX FREEDMAN

The 1965 report of the International Monetary Fund concludes that "the international monetary system as it exists today is sufficiently strong to allow of a calm and dispassionate consideration of and improving it." There is, in short, no reason for thinking that an immediate financial crisis faces us. But that does not mean that the present system can be continued indefinitely without risk. The best time for wise planning is before the storm strikes us.

This general approach clearly reflects the views of the American government. Mr. Henry Fowler, secretary of the treasury, would like to have the international monetary system reviewed by a world conference. He has announced that a sustained effort will be made to secure broad agreement on essential principles before the conference is convened. France has given a churlish answer to these overtures but the preliminary planning will continue.

The fund has already made its own contribution towards the achievement of what it calls "an international consensus regarding both the major objectives of liquidity policy and the broad nature of the techniques to achieve these objectives." There is no agreement as yet on a common policy but the fund intends to study this problem very actively in the coming year.

FACES NEW PROBLEMS

In essence, it is necessary to protect the world monetary system from sudden and excessive strains produced by the swings and changes of world trade. A related but distinct problem is created by the needs of the emergent nations, dependent on the export of a few primary commodities subject to large fluctuations in price, and dependent also on external sources for their investment capital. The fund must now, against the background of its acknowledged success, deal with the new problems of world trade and with the difficulties they have caused for the monetary system.

The evidence produced in this report justified the conclusion that the American government has acted with prudence and success in protecting the dollar against further strain. The American balance of payments, though unproved, is still not without its anxieties. The United States is seeking to find a long-term solution by improvements in the world monetary system rather than by selfish national gains imposed by America's position of economic dominance. This desire to be fair and co-operative, and to work for an international solution, places the United States in a strong position in the coming negotiations.

By contrast the report confirms the sad estate of Great Britain and the growing strains on the pound sterling as an international currency. Figures cited by the fund show that Britain has failed to obtain her fair share of the expansion in world trade. Fortunately, British economic experts are fully aware of these problems and out of their own rich experience can be expected to make useful contributions to the ultimate international solution.

Writing earlier this year for the Institute of Economic Affairs in London, Professor Gottfried Haberler of Harvard said "the International Monetary Fund has worked well and would seem to be the suitable framework for cautious reforms and improvements. No radical overhaul is necessary."

DE GAULLE WANTS GOLD

He was very critical of President de Gaulle's suggestion that the world should return to the pre-1914 gold standard. He estimated that it would be necessary, if the gold standard were re-introduced, to raise the price of gold drastically—"at least 100 per cent, I should think."

In addition, as Professor Haberler pointed out, nobody can be sure whether the doubling or tripling of the price of gold would produce world deflation or inflation, or by chance would be just right. Thus there can be no mechanical or automatic operation of the restored gold standard. National and international management would still be necessary. Professor Haberler thinks it would be much easier to make the present system work by retaining sterling and dollars in their present role or by widening the range of reserve currencies.

All these problems will be intensively reviewed at the forthcoming annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund. It is a reasonable forecast that the final decision some months from now will be much closer to Professor Haberler's proposed plan than to President de Gaulle's recommendation.

Some years later, there was John Little who left behind him $200,000, along with 180 wigs, 173 pairs of breeches, and hundreds of other articles of clothing. When his doctor ordered him to drink a little wine for his health's sake, this added expense so excited him that he died in the act of drawing the cork from the bottle.

Sir Harvey Elwes, who died leaving a fortune of more than $1,000,000, never spent more than $400 a year—and his sister-in-law, who inherited politicians privately believe that Gov. Knowles is taking a dangerous risk in permitting his wife to campaign for such an extensive remodeling of a residence that many persons would regard as quite attractive and at a cost that not more than a tiny handful of private householders can comprehend.

It is possible that this reporter, among others, is too tardy in appreciating changes in tastes, conditions and public assumptions. Yet it was only a few years ago that there was a sizeable rumpus (in the legislature) about a home for a prison warden. A recent biographer of the late Glenn Frank spent many pages in recounting the popular and political resentment about his appetite for luxury and elegance when he was the chief officer of the University of Wisconsin in the 1930's.

THE EASE

I can remember when Gov. Oscar Rennebohm, in a period of more modest spending and closer review of capital construction requests, used to pore over blueprints in person and veto specifications calling for brass rails and other items he regarded as too luxurious for the taxpayers to bear justifiably.

That was only 15 years ago. If there is any comparable auditing of the expenditure blueprints as drafted by the institutional officers today it is not apparent from the sidelines.

It will be said that such reviews are made in subcommittees. But that is also a way of saying that legislative authority is being diluted even more thinly, since those subcommittees consist of only two members, who may or may not study critically and who in any event report to their colleagues at the final business meetings in the most sketchy and fragmentary way.

A vital and basic assumption about representative government is that the legislature controls the purse strings, as the phrase goes. But that principle is being eroded. It is perfectly plain that the extra-constitutional bonding machinery has evolved into a scope and pattern that is irrevocable. Yet there may be some persons, however realistic, who may regret the tacit abdication of legislative responsibility involved.

OR ANOTHER

Another hazardous proposal, if introduced into the legislative mill in the ordinary way, is a plan to spend a quarter of a million dollars on the renovation of the executive residence which the state provides for the governor and his family.

On the legislative floor the temptation would have been irresistible for an opposing party politician, as some of the grumbling in Democratic circles outside the capitol has already suggested. Many

Spending Requests Get Little Critical Study by Building Commission

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—It is difficult to avoid the conclusion, in watching the proceedings of the State Building Commission from a seat on the sidelines, that the device of state bonding through quasi-public building corporation has led to more capital construction spending than would be permitted under direct bond issues explicitly reviewed and voted upon by the legislature.

The other day the University of Wisconsin brought in a plan for a "chilled water facility" on its campus. It asked for and was granted money to prepare the drawings.

Such a circumlocution for the introduction of air conditioning to campus structures would inevitably have brought some comment from backbenchers in the legislature, would have attracted some publicity, and generated some public discussion and possibly would have been side ranked in favor of more worthy uses of state funds in an era of recurring financial crisis.

But as it happened, the item was approved almost routinely, with a casual comment or two, and was scarcely noted in the news dispatches which recounted the big bundle of expenditure items endorsed by the commission at its meeting.

Miserliness Pitiful Form of Suicide

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Last week, another one of those "wealthy-miser-dies-in-flophouse" stories broke into the papers, and set me to wondering what strange combination of lust and fear drives men to hoard their possessions and live in furtive misery.

One of the earliest misers on

record was Dick Jarrell, a 17th Century Englishman, who died worth $50,000, which was a tremendous fortune in those days. Yet his annual expenses never exceeded $50, and the beer that was brewed at his christening was drunk at his funeral.

Some years ago, a survey made by the Treasury Department and the American Bankers Association indicated that about $500,000,000 in hoarded money, mostly in gold, was hidden in mattresses and tin cans throughout the country.

We know today that the miser is a mentally sick person, and that his avarice is a disease rather than a vice, a form of suicide more pitiful and degrading than liquor or drug addiction.

Sealab Officials Eye Approach of Hurricane

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Officials of Sealab 2 are keeping a close watch today on a hurricane moving up the coast of Baja California.

The storm was about 450 miles southeast of La Jolla on Wednesday, but officials believe it won't cause trouble for the underwater living experiment.

The Weather Bureau said the storm, packing winds of up to 78 miles an hour, probably will not reach Southern California.

They said the hurricane, Emily, was closer than any other potentially hazardous storm in many years.

Of primary concern was the influence a heavy storm might have on the Berkone, the support ship moored over the Sealab capsule 1,000 feet from shore.

Disrupt Communications
Communications, power and other support facilities for the Sealab would be disrupted if a storm pushed the Berkone away from the project site, and the divers would have to be brought to the surface.

Ten aquanauts are spending 15 days on the bottom at a depth of 205 feet in the test of underwater endurance. Their home is the 12x58-foot capsule.

Sealab 1 was curtailed last year because of rough seas from a hurricane off Bermuda.

The aquanauts were setting up an underwater weather station near the Sealab. Officials called it the most important piece of scientific gear they will install during the experiment.

Full Faith and Credit Bonds Urged for State

ed little support among the members of the legislature. Most recent candidates for the governorship have favored the change, but have been unable to get the backing of enough legislators to initiate the amendment and to approve it for submission to the voters of Wisconsin in a referendum.

The Dineen committee suggested a constitutional debt limit should be controlled, and suggested an amount equal to 3 per cent of the total property valuation of the state as a suitable figure. That would permit a long-term debt of about $750 million, it is estimated.

Although the report clearly showed a preference for direct and constitutionally approved borrowing, the committee of private business leaders took pains to note that the present borrowing program has been carefully managed, and as economically as is possible under the circumstances.

Kept Control
It explained that the legislature has kept control of the debt program through its control over the biennial debt service appropriations, and its domination of the state building commission which creates the quasi-public corporations and supervises them.

A modern government cannot operate effectively without some long-term debt, the report said. The state, like its corporate and private citizens, "must be able to borrow money to grow and prosper," said the report to the governor.

Experience in the latest state corporation bond issues, with an average interest cost of 3.2 per cent, has shown that the state's obligations have won acceptance. But a change in the constitution for the issuance of direct state bonds would bring even more favorable marketing terms, it was said.

Method Changes
The report urged a number of procedural changes in the state borrowing program, evidently in the belief that a constitutional amendment is not imminent. Among them was a proposal to consolidate four separate state building corporations into a single corporation. The governor was told that the state can probably operate most economically by building and owning the facilities it needs, but there may be occasions when leasing private properties will be advantageous.

Gov. Knowles, who attended a news conference at which the capital financing recommendations were made public, repeated his own desire for a bonding mechanism that would also embrace highway construction acceleration and an expansion of the state recreational land acquisition and development program. He is preparing recommendations on both subjects for the fall legislative session, apparently in anticipation of the continued use of the "dummy" corporation device. But Knowles said that conservation and highway needs could be covered within the three per cent of the property valuation state debt limit proposed by the Dineen

West's Economy Luster

Eastern Banker Rides To Top Spot in Nevada

By BILL STALL

RENO, Nev. (AP) — As a Philadelphia banker, Stuart B. Webb used to spend his leisure hours fox hunting.

He's found no fox hunting since moving to Nevada to be president of the state's second largest bank.

"But I've been on horseback, looking at our cattle. We lend money on cattle here — something unusual for the East."

Head of 13 Branches

Webb, at 40, already has filled a heart's desire by becoming top officer of the Nevada Bank of Commerce, with 13 branches throughout the state and assets of $95.6 million.

Webb was born, reared and educated in the East. He moved to Reno in April as administrative vice president and became president July 29.

Why did he come?

After Dream

"I was looking for a situation that would lead to a top spot in the banking business. This one came to my attention, so I seized it. It's always been my heart's desire to be a bank president."

Webb did have some qualms about moving from the old, established eastern financial world to Nevada, the only state with casino gambling.

"I have been most agreeably surprised with the inside look that I've had of the financial structure of gambling casinos. They are well set up and very well managed."

Casino Finances

Casinos reported gross winnings of more than $290 million during 1964.

Casinos have an excellent cash flow, Webb says. "Their business is cash. Very little credit is involved in it. Ready, short-term credit depends on the cash-flow analysis and this comes up quickly."

Nevada has a newer, luster economy than the East, Webb says.

Less Cautious

"As a result, I think the banks extend more credit to a particular customer than would fit the pattern in the East."

But growth has created a greater demand for capital than Nevada banks can meet, so a large amount of building financing still comes from the East, Webb says.

"The attractive thing here is the high interest rate pattern. It's 20 to 25 per cent higher than in the East. We get a standard rate of 7 per cent on loans compared to 5 1/2 per cent in the East."

"We're in a unique situation. We're the second largest bank in the state, but only a fourth of the size of the No. 1 bank."

Youthful President

Being a bank president at 40 may not fit the public's image of a top financial official, but Webb says he's had no problem with his youth in business dealings.

"I don't have too much hair on my head, so I guess they can't tell how old I am."

Webb wasn't a total stranger to the West.

"We have some family property near Idaho Springs, Colo., and we used to go out there every summer."

Family of Five

Webb and his wife have three children: Peter 15, Nancy, 8, and Scott, 5.

Webb, a native of Washington, D. C., was graduated from Lehigh University in 1950. He did graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and Rutgers before joining Provident National Bank in Philadelphia.

He worked his way up, and then became an executive of the National Bank of Pottstown, Pa.

Administration authorities said U.S. Ambassador James D. Bell in Kuala Lumpur will meet soon with the irate Singapore prime minister to discuss problems between the two countries. Consideration also is being given to naming an ambassador to the newly independent island state.

While many officials expressed surprise at the vehemence of Lee's broadside, there is a growing feeling here that Lee is demonstrating he is a member of the Asian-African club, ready to pursue a militantly independent neutral course.

Better Position

Official sources here think Lee is trying to improve his position internally in the face of strong opposition from the Barisan Socialist party.

A third view is that Lee has been under heavy strains since the separation of Singapore from the Malaysia Federation last month and has also been worried by the serious illness of his wife.

Lee sought the services of a New York specialist in gynecology. When the specialist was unable to fly to Singapore because of a prior speaking engagement in Geneva, the State Department arranged for another specialist to go to Singapore, but Lee angrily refused the offer as "impudent."

taking over Dr. Schweitzer's medical duties so Schweitzer could devote his time to finishing a giant philosophical treatise — the work of his life.

But he sat every day at his battered desk in the hut housing the hospital's central pharmacy, where drugs were given out to ailing Africans.

90th Birthday

"I feel admirably well," he told this reporter last Jan. 14 on his 90th birthday.

According to reports available here, Dr. Schweitzer had kept up his daily routine, dictating answers to numerous letters, studying plans for new construction at the hospital and receiving visitors. When he first fell ill on Sunday, associates said he was "tired after receiving many visitors."

A later report said the doctor had lost consciousness Wednesday, but recovered slightly toward evening. He was still described as "very ill" this morning, when a Gabonese gendarme from Lambarene communicated with his superiors in Libreville.

In the capital, Africans were philosophical about the man who had devoted his life to Africa and became the center of controversy.

"He is old, very old," was a comment often heard here.

The old doctor's primitive methods in treating Africans stirred considerable controversy on this continent, which is aspiring to Western methods. Dr. Schweitzer has been accused of paternalism of prolonging the colonial era in his hospital and not helping the African reach a higher degree of civilization.

Dr. Schweitzer's answer has been simple: "I am here to cure, not to preach or civilize."

Canine Care Creates Chaos In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital has another dogged problem: It needs a new dog pound.

And, like most things in Washington, it's not so simple.

The old pound is situated across the street from a multi-million, ultra-modern motel on the city's southwest side. Motel officials want it removed immediately. They say it was supposed to be moved before the motel was opened three years ago.

But district officials say Congress has allotted them only $130,000 for the new facility and thus far, no contractor has been willing to build a new pound for that money.

John King Jr., poundmaster, said Wednesday that the new pound should include air conditioning facilities for 150 dogs and ceramic tile or concrete floors. "Piped in music would be all right," he said, "but it's not necessary."

District officials have made two attempts to get a satisfactory bid for construction of the new pound. A third attempt will be made Sept. 14.

Out-of-Court Compromise for Schlitz Favored

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The federal judge conducting the trial of the U.S. Government's anti-trust suit against the Schlitz Brewing Co., said Wednesday he prefers that the two parties reach an out-of-court compromise.

U.S. Dist. Judge Stanley A. Weigel, in a statement entered into the court record at Wednesday's session in the third week of the trial, said:

"I think the testimony in this case to the effect that this litigation and all the talk it has generated has been hurtful to general brewing is true. It is uneconomical."

He said the competitive position of General Brewing Corp. of San Francisco — makers of Schlitz Lager — can better be prepaternalism of prolonging the colonial era in his hospital and not helping the African reach a higher degree of civilization.

The judge said there appeared to be only a narrow gap between the government and Schlitz and General Brewing. To bridge that gap would take only "reasonable compromise," he said.

Investment by Paper Industry Sets State Pace

Leads in Capital Applied to Plant, Equipment Projects

Post-Crescent/Admission Bureau

MADISON — The pulp and paper industry has led all Wisconsin manufacturing categories in recent years in the amount of capital investment for new plant and equipment, the state department of resource development said today.

The comment came in connection with the department's reference in its newsletter to the announced plan of Consolidated Papers, Inc., to spend $20,000,000 in new plant for the replacement of its existing sulphite pulp mill.

The state agency, which serves as a promoter of industrial expansion among other functions, said it is also noteworthy that the new plant will use pulpwood derived mostly from Wisconsin sources. Growing pulpwood on millions of acres of Wisconsin land is one of the state's most important resources, but the market has been unstable for some of the principal tree species.

The most recent labor market reports of the state industrial commission show that pulp and paper manufacturing companies of the state had a total employment of about 42,400, representing a gradual increase during recent years, but showing less growth than some of the durable goods industries. The pulp and paper manufacturing employment level has tended to be stable historically.

The commission has also shown that total manufacturing employment continues to grow, and that the current total of about 490,000 is the highest on record. During the last four years total non-farm employment in the state gained about 134,000, representing a net gain in jobs in the state of about 100,000 after allowing for the disappearance of about 30,000 agricultural jobs.

All planes returned safely and no aircraft fire was encountered, the spokesman said.

Other Developments

In other developments, newsmen were given these details of scattered action on the ground: —U.S. Army elements of Task Force Alpha killed seven Viet Cong Wednesday near Qui Nhon, 270 miles northeast of Saigon, as the guerrillas were crossing a river in a 15-man patrol. American losses were termed light.

Task Force Alpha is the new U.S. Army command created last month to control all U.S. ground combat forces in the 2nd and 3rd Corps areas. Its headquarters is in Nha Trang, 210 miles northeast of the capital.

—A Popular Force platoon ambushed five Viet Cong 65 miles northwest of Saigon near Tay Ninh. Vietnamese casualties were light.

—Three Viet Cong were killed and 15 suspects detained in a government operation 25 miles south of Chu Lai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon. No Vietnamese casualties were reported.

B52 Role

The Guam-based B52s have stepped up their activity in recent weeks with indications this role will be further increased. B52s made their first double-header attack of the war Tuesday, hitting targets 30 miles north and 320 miles northeast of Saigon.

In other air activity, the second U.S. helicopter to crash in two days went down 280 miles northeast of Saigon, injuring the four American crewmen aboard.

Military authorities said the crash occurred near An Khe, which is on Route 19 between Qui Nhon and Pleiku. The four men were evacuated to a field hospital at Nha Trang. Two were reported in serious condition.

Toy Raid

Reliable sources in Saigon said the United States is considering an air raid on North Viet Nam last spring.

An official U.S. spokesman declined comment but acknowledged that one experimental toy drop was made over North Viet Nam last spring.

A toy drop, sources said, would be used as a psychological weapon to show Communist Vietnamese enjoy a higher standard of living.

Janitor Becomes Teacher, Takes Cut in Pay

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — At a $350 annual cut in pay, Clarence Bradshaw, 33, is giving up his job as a school janitor to become a school teacher.

Bradshaw will begin teaching sixth grade at Highland Park Elementary School next week for $5,650 a year. He has been working as a custodian for $6,000 a year while attending night classes at Akron University. He received his degree in elementary education last June.

Bradshaw worked as a school janitor for nine years after flunking out of Akron U. in 1956. In 1960, he decided to have another go at a bachelor's degree.

Public Welfare Must Supersede Free Enterprise

Intervention in Steel Dispute Is Attempt To Protect Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Free enterprise — up to a point. The general welfare comes first. This country has moved a long way from the myth of a truly free enterprise system.

The latest example is President Johnson's intervention in the steel dispute which, if it became a prolonged strike, would damage the economy and therefore most Americans.

Even in their earliest days Americans loved the free competition slogan while they made a joke of it.

In their first attempt at union under the Articles of confederation — from 1781 to 1789 when the colonies became states with a central government — the individual states were entranced with the go-it-alone idea.

Each considered itself sovereign. The central government, without a president or courts, had only a Congress where the representatives were more like ambassadors than representatives.

No Federal Taxes

The central government couldn't impose taxes or tariffs. The states set up their own tariffs particularly against one another, to protect their residents from outside competition. They were whizzing toward disaster, recognized it, set up the present government, and, in the first Congress, passed a tariff act to protect Americans from foreign competition.

Through most of American history presidents rejected the idea of government responsibility for the general welfare even while the government was giving new railroads land and subsidies.

One president vetoed a bill to help the insane poor, saying it would make the poor only more hopeless and dependent. Another vetoed a bill to help drought-stricken farmers, saying: "Though the people should support the government, the government should not support the people."

The latter happened in 1887, the very year in which Congress took one of its most far-reaching steps by creating the Interstate Commerce Commission to put controls on what railroads could charge.

It was a pioneer in the vast system of government controls of today. But this happened at the very moment when big business showed how little stomach it had for truly free competition by creating trusts.

In this same period millions of Americans who never heard of Herbert Spencer, the British philosopher, were his disciples and his victims by absorbing his belief in the devil take the hindmost.

In this view the poor were poor because they were inferior and the rich rich because they were superior.

Social Measures

But while the country still followed this rugged individualism idea, the Germans had set up unemployment pay (almost 60 years ahead of this country) and the British social security (more than 20 years ahead of this country).

Even President Herbert Hoover, a humane man, as late as 1932 couldn't bring himself to accept the idea the government should give direct help to the impoverished.

But the disaster of depression made Americans face what they had been tardy to acknowledge, although throughout history individual groups had been seeking special benefits. That the government not only had a responsibility for the general welfare but should assert it. Then, for the first time, in 1946 Congress said so in the employment act of that year. The great change came with the New Deal.

Welfare programs, established then, have been expanded enormously. And government really butted in on the free enterprise relations between management and labor with the Wagner Act of 1935 and the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947.

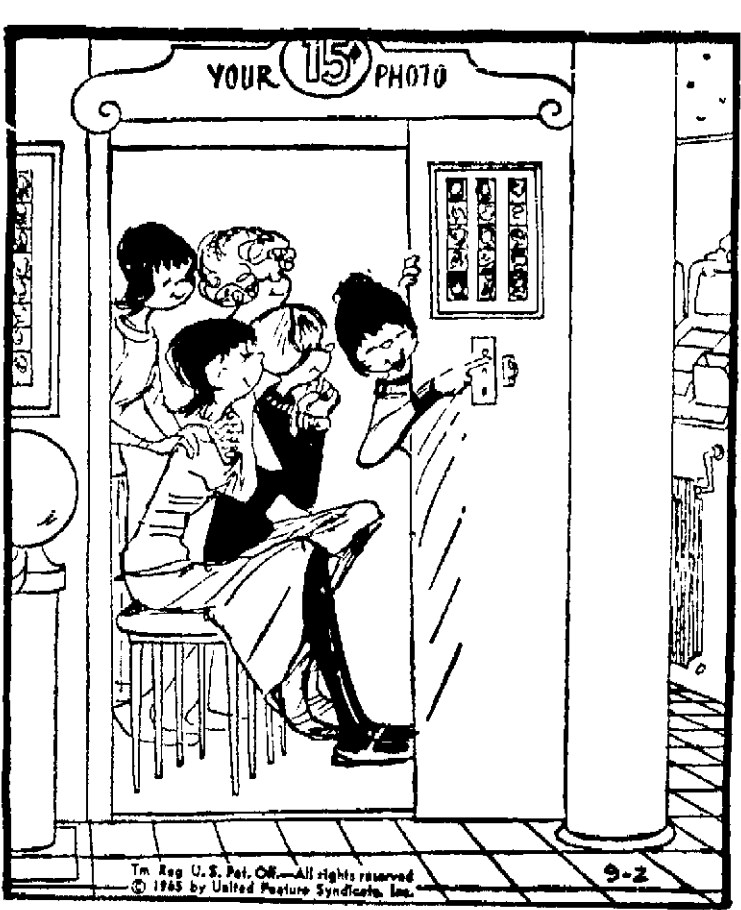

The former compelled employers to deal with employees' unions and the latter, in the case of big industries, empowered the government to get an injunction to delay a strike at least 60 days.

Presidents Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy and now Johnson all intervened to prevent big, damaging strikes.

So, while Americans still pay lip service to the idea of truly, free enterprise, they ignore it when it might damage the general welfare.

TV's Jack Bailey

Winnebago Fairgoers See 'Bye, Bye Birdie'

BY DAVID F. WAGNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — An entertaining,

if not outstanding, production of "Bye Bye Birdie" opened at the Winnebago County Fair here Wednesday night before a not too enthusiastic audience of relatively small size.

Jack Bailey, host of television's "Queen for a Day" for many years, was billed as top star, but the performances of some of the lesser known talents provided most of the show's highlights.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is a spoof on Elvis Presley's success as a singing idol. The plot line is built around a gimmick by Conrad Birdie's manager to make budgets of money before his star is spirited away to the armed forces.

Woman Troubles

The manager, Albert Peterson, played by Charles Rich, has problems in addition to trying to get rich. He and his secretary want to get married, but mama won't hear of her poor 33-year-old son having to face life without her, an attitude which has more selfish designs than concern for her son.

Undoubtedly the highlight of county fair version of "Birdie" was the "One Hundred Ways to Kill a Man" ballet late in the first act. When Peterson's secretary, Rose Alvarez, excitingly portrayed by Eileen Barnett, is perturbed by Al's refusal to go against his mother's suggestions, she says, "I could kill live choreography. The scene picked up an otherwise dragging plot.

The best musical moments of "Birdie" came whenever Rosie or Kim MacAfee, played by Marie Daniel, lifted their soprano voices in song, notably on Kim's "One Boy," Rosie's "Spanish Rose" and the pair's "What Did I Ever See in Him?"

Birdie himself was well-handled by Jimmy, Damon, who was perhaps too wholesome to effectively get across the point of the role. Notwithstanding, he stood out on "Sincere" and "One Last Kiss."

Bailey's Antics

Bailey is an experienced performer and knows his way around a role, but the feeling that he would burst out with "Would you like to be Conrad Birdie for a Day?" could not be eliminated. At one point, he broke up his wife and son, played by Hasmick Nazarian and nine-year-old Michael Tanner, with his onstage antics, some of which were not in the script. As his son walked off the stage after laughing in the middle of a line, Bailey quipped, "Enjoying the show, kid?"

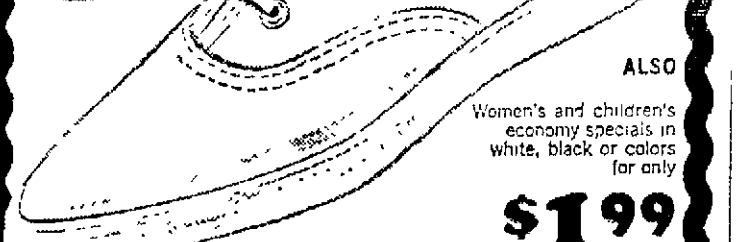

Fifteen-year-old musical director Rosemary Bailey conducted a decent orchestra assembled by and choreographer Rich Rahn has put together some rotary, Rose Alvarez, excitingly portrayed by Eileen Barnett, is perturbed by Al's refusal to go against his mother's suggestions, she says, "I could kill

King - Sized Problems Face Johnson in Foreign Policy

Viet Nam, Dominican Republic, U.N. Still Plague President

EDITOR'S NOTE — Congress Today Johnson could find use may be tractable, but the world for a string of magic buttons at large is not. In his foreign policies, President Johnson has come up against some king-sized problems. This is the third of four articles on LBJ in action.

BY LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We cannot expect to mash a button." President Johnson said soon after he took office. "and have our wishes carried out all over this globe."

on foreign issues. On the other hand, he was a recognized master of domestic issues.

But the foreign picture has its brighter spots, too. To name three again:

Canal Zone

— The Panama problem, which erupted with Canal Zone riots in January 1964 as Johnson's first full-blown foreign crisis, has receded into negotiations that show promise of curing two long-standing issues: Panama's discontent with the old Canal Zone treaty, and agreement on a new sealevel waterway.

— The former Belgian Congo, giant in the heart of Africa, has survived insurgency and Africa-can animosities with a strengthened pro-West regime at Leopoldville.

— Cyprus, threatening to ignite war between North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies Turkey and Greece a year ago, has calmed after extensive U.S. diplomacy in foreign chanceries and the United Nations.

To label any one of these cases as a success or failure entirely attributable to Johnson is to credit him with more power than he commands. As Johnson put it, "We are not the last word" — other forces are at work too, and every crisis has historical antecedents.

The final verdict is in the distant future on Johnson's foreign affairs difficulties — the conflict with communism in Southeast Asia.

Situation Deteriorated

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara returned from a July inspection trip to South Viet Nam saying the situation had deteriorated. Johnson had ordered the first sustained bombing of North Viet Nam begun in February and sent initial U.S. ground combat forces to South Viet Nam the following month. Now he has increased the U.S. military manpower commitment by 50,000, to 125,000.

Battle reports are producing moderate optimism on defeating the current Viet Cong summer offensive. Yet the Reds still show no sign of wanting to talk peace. Even if there should be clear military gains in the coming months, a long task would lie ahead in strengthening South Viet Nam to the point where it could stand without outside aid.

There persists the grave question of whether the Communist Chinese might move in bodily on the Viet Nam warfare.

Gunboat Diplomacy

In the Dominican chaos last April, Johnson averted what he portrayed as the threat of another Cuba by sending in more than 20,000 troops. Still, there was sharp criticism from many Latin Americans who protested what they called a return to the gunboat diplomacy which preceded the good neighbor policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Organization of American States has been on the scene in the Dominican Republic now, with a force still largely American negotiating for an interim government.

Large-scale U.S. aid for years is in prospect after Dominican government finally is set up.

At the United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg announced the administration's formal abandonment of the lengthy U.S. effort to force the Soviet Union and other delinquent members to pay their U.N. dues on peacekeeping operations.

This about-face from the position previously taken by the Johnson and Kennedy administrations indicates a new method and closer transatlantic ties. A revival of the world organization will have to be worked out.

Thursday, September 2, 1965 The Post-Crescent A

The United States has been by far the largest contributor.

The wide and often turbulent field of U.S.-Soviet relations generally has come under the cloud of Viet Nam. Keeping a keel is Washington's main effort now. U.S.-Soviet negotiators succeeded last year in agreeing on a consular treaty. No breakthrough on disarmament is in sight.

Some progress with Communist bloc countries is in increased trade, travel and relaxing tensions has been reported from Johnson's policy of building bridges to Eastern Europe. This is a slow but continuing process.

Stagnation marks U.S. relations with Western Europe. The Johnson has hewed to American policy favoring European unity and closer transatlantic ties. A revival of talk about a multilateral nuclear force is expected.

after West Germany's election this fall.

But French President Charles de Gaulle stands firmly athwart moves to integrate the European countries, and France remains in the heart of Europe. The record is mixed where. The overthrow of Algerian Ben Bella seems to have proved the U.S. view of Algiers Relations with the United Arab Republic's Gamal Abdel Nasser are uneasy but not rock bottom.

With Indonesia's Sukarno still going sharply downhill, U.S. diplomats have found no way to stop the India-Pakistan strife.

In Latin America the Johnson administration has stepped Alliance for Progress aid.

program still gets complaints from Latin Americans of bureaucratic strictures by Washington, and criticisms from some U.S. officials that the L
